DIVISION H—DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2011

Following is an explanation of the effects of Division H, which makes appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for fiscal year 2011. As provided in Section 4 of the consolidated bill, this explanatory statement shall have the same effect with respect to the allocation of funds and the implementation of this division as if it were a joint explanatory statement of a committee of conference.

Funding levels for individual programs and activities within the accounts in this division are displayed in the detailed table at the end of this division of the explanatory statement. Where applicable, additional details regarding funding levels are provided in the text and tables below.

Within this division, references to “the bill” apply only to Division H of the consolidated bill.

With respect to matters other than allocation of funds among programs, projects and activities, Departments and agencies should follow guidance contained in Senate Report 111–243, except to the extent that such guidance is modified or overridden in this explanatory statement. Any intended guidance with respect to allocation of funds is reflected in this statement and the accompanying tables, or in the bill itself.

Where this statement or Senate Report 111–243 directs or requests the submission of a report, the report should be submitted to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Section 516 sets forth the reprogramming requirements and limitations for the Departments and agencies funded through this division, including the requirement to make a written request to the Committees on Appropriations 15 days prior to reprogramming, or to the announcement of intent to reprogram, funds in excess of 10 percent, or $500,000, whichever is less, between programs, projects and activities.

Departments and agencies funded in this division shall submit statements on the effect of this Act to the Committees on Appropriations within 45 days of enactment of this Act, pursuant to section 518. The Committees expect that these statements will provide sufficient detail to show the allocation of funds among programs, projects and activities, particularly in accounts where the final appropriation is different than that of the budget request. Further, these statements shall also include the effect of the appropriation on any new activities or major initiatives discussed in the budget justifications accompanying the fiscal year 2011 budget.

TITLE I
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Funding levels for programs within the Department of Labor, along with comparisons to last year’s levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION

Workforce Innovation Funds.—Within the total for grants to States, the bill includes $165,000,000 to fund competitive grants for workforce innovation activities. Grant activities should test innovative strategies or replicate proven practices that support reforms of the workforce investment system and substantially improve employment and education outcomes for participants, particularly those who are hardest to serve. With respect to grantee eligibility and priority for selecting grant applicants, the Department should follow guidance contained in Senate Report 111–243.

Migrant and Seasonal Farmworkers.—The Department of Labor is directed to submit annual reports to the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate documenting the use of farmworker housing funds. The reports should include information on the amount of funds used for permanent and temporary housing activities, respectively; a list of the communities served; a list of the grantees and the States in which they are located; the total number of individuals or families served; and a list of allowable temporary housing activities.

Job Corps.—The Secretary of Labor is directed to use authority provided in the bill to transfer up to 25 percent of construction funds to meet the operational needs of Job Corps Centers.

Job Corps Centers provide enormous benefits to the communities they serve in the form of employment opportunities associated with the center as well as education and training opportunities for the disadvantaged youth housed there. For this reason, the timely opening of newly constructed centers is of the utmost importance. The Department's process and proposed timelines for opening newly constructed centers for students is too slow. More effort needs to be made to expedite this process to ensure that the promise offered by a new center is delivered to the affected community quickly. To that end, within the total for Job Corps, sufficient funding is included to ensure that any new center constructed but not open for students by July 1, 2011, will have a competitively procured contractor on site on or before that date, open for students by October 2011 and operate at its full capacity by April 2012. In addition, the funding level is sufficient to ensure that any newly constructed centers activated and enrolling students during program year 2010 operate at their full capacity for the duration of program year 2011.

One-Stop Career Centers/Labor Market Information.—Within the total for One-Stop Career Centers and Labor Market Information, the bill includes $15,000,000 to carry out the language in Senate Report 111-243 regarding disability-related employment planning and activities.

Advances to the Unemployment Trust Fund and Other Funds.—The bill includes such sums as may be necessary for Advances to the Unemployment Trust Fund and Other Funds. The funds may be used to implement an extension of the expanded Trade Adjustment Assistance program, including the provision of additional training, employment, and case management services funds to the States.

Federal Grant Application Review Panels.—The Employment and Training Administration (ETA) is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations not later than May 31, 2011, regarding its efforts to restructure federal grant application review panels. The report should examine the feasibility of including representatives of community-based organizations, along with national and regional nonprofit associations, on grant review panels. The report should also list ETA's competitive grant competitions in program year 2010; the number of individuals on each grant review panel; the average duration of time a reviewer remains on a grant review panel; the process for hiring grant reviewers; and the general expertise of the reviewers on each panel.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Within the total for the Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA), the bill includes $3,000,000 to develop and implement a comprehensive program to enforce the mental health provisions of the Paul Wellstone and Pete Domenici Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008. The program should become an integrated part of EBSA's permanent operations, and include a national compliance assistance program, a strong public outreach and education component, and enforcement activities.

WAGE AND HOUR DIVISION

Within the total for the Wage and Hour Division, the bill includes $10,000,000 for an initiative to detect and deter the inappropriate misclassification of employees as independent contractors.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Natural Gas Standard.—In response to recent natural gas-related explosions in North Carolina and Connecticut, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is directed to develop a permanent standard on natural gas. At a minimum, the permanent standard should address the Chemical Safety Board's urgent recommendations to prohibit the following: the use of natural gas for pipe cleaning; the venting or purging of fuel gas indoors; and any work activity where the flammable gas concentration exceeds a fixed, low percentage of the lower explosive limit. OSHA should also draft guidelines for employers on the inclusion of workers and contractors in developing safe procedures and training for handling fuel gas. OSHA shall submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations within 180 days of enactment, and updated reports every 180 days thereafter, detailing the anticipated timeline for issuing a permanent standard on natural gas, and OSHA's progress in meeting that timeline.

Whistleblower Protection.—To ensure the effectiveness of the Whistleblower Protection Program (WPP), the Secretary of Labor is directed to require that all WPP investigators and supervisors have taken both of OSHA's mandatory courses for whistleblower statutes by June 30, 2011. In addition, the Secretary is directed to comply with the language in Senate report 111-243 regarding the WPP. The Secretary is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations not later than April 30, 2011, that identifies options to establish and operate a stand-alone WPP Division reporting directly to the Deputy Secretary, or to establish and operate the WPP as a separate office within OSHA to be headed by an expert on employment retaliation law who has supervisory responsibility over all whistleblower staff. The report should include cost estimates for each scenario.

Voluntary Protection Program (VPP).—Sufficient funding is provided to maintain the VPP at its fiscal year 2010 level.

MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Approval and Certification of Equipment.—The bill authorizes the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) to retain up to $1,350,000 from fees collected for the approval and certification of equipment, materials, and explosives for use in mines, and to utilize such sums for such activities.

Mine Rescue Training.—Within the amount provided for Program Administration, the bill provides $1,500,000 for an award to the United Mine Workers of America to continue a project, initiated with the fiscal year 2008 appropriation, for classroom and simulated rescue training for mine rescue teams at its Beckley, West Virginia, and Washington, Pennsylvania, career centers.

BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS

Supplemental Statistical Poverty Measure.—Within the total for the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), the bill includes $2,500,000 to support the Census Bureau in its development of a supplemental statistical poverty measure, to be based on recommendations of the National Academy of Sciences and subsequent research. However, the new measure shall not affect program eligibility or disbursement of Federal funds to States or localities.

Restructuring of Statistical Programs.—The bill adopts the Administration's proposals to reduce the cost of its programs by implementing an alternative approach to the Locality Pay Survey (LPS) and by restructuring the Current Employment Statistics (CES) program. The Department has indicated that these new approaches will allow BLS to provide important data at a lower cost without sacrificing quality. In fiscal year 2011, the Secretary is directed to maintain the International Labor Comparisons office at its fiscal year 2010 funding level.

OFFICE OF DISABILITY EMPLOYMENT POLICY

Within the total for the Office of Disability Employment Policy, the bill includes $15,000,000 to carry out the language in Senate Report 111-243 regarding disability-related employment planning and activities.

DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT

Legal Services.—The bill includes $9,600,000 above the budget request for mine safety activities and legal services related to the growing backlog of appeals of MSHA citations at the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission (FMSHRC). Of these additional funds, up to $4,300,000 is available to the Secretary of Labor to be transferred to the Mine Safety and Health Administration for FMSHRC-related activities.

International Labor Affairs Bureau (ILAB).—The bill includes $40,000,000 for the United States' contribution to the International Labour Organization's (ILO) International Program for the Elimination of Child Labor (IPEC). The designation of funds for ILO-IPEC is not intended to preclude additional funding for other initiatives if the Department determines that ILO-IPEC is the most qualified organization to perform the work. Additional funds provided to ILAB also should be used to meet reporting requirements related to the Trade and Development Act report on the worst forms of child labor.

Sustainability Report.—Not later than July 15, 2011, and annually thereafter, the Department shall submit to the Committees on Appropriations a report on its progress toward achieving each of the sustainability goals and targets applicable to all U.S. Government agencies as outlined in Executive Order 13514.

WORKING CAPITAL FUND

The bill includes funding to support a government-wide initiative to improve Federal procurement activities. The Department is directed to draft a plan with milestones, performance measures, and estimated funding levels – including anticipated transfers within the Department – on the base activities and specific activities supported above the base due to funds provided under this heading. The plan should be submitted to the Committees on Appropriations not later than April 1, 2011.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sections 101-105 and 107 are continuations of general provisions included in the fiscal year 2010 version of this Act.

Section 106 prohibits use of funds appropriated for the Employment and Training Administration to pay the salary and bonuses of an individual at a rate in excess of Executive Level II. This represents a technical modification of a provision carried in last year's Act intended to maintain the same substantive effect.

Section 108 is a new provision that rescinds $3,900,000 from the Working Capital Fund and amends Public Law 85-67 to eliminate authorization for the Investment in Reinvention Fund.

Section 109 is a new provision that allows the Employment and Training Administration to transfer technical assistance funds to its Program Management account when it is determined that those services will be more efficiently performed by Federal staff.

TITLE II

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Funding levels for programs within the Department of Health and Human Services, along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in a table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

HEALTH RESOURCES AND SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

Funding levels for programs within the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

Primary Health Care

Community Health Centers.—The bill includes language designating $100,000,000 for expenses associated with extending Federal Tort Claims Act protection to practitioners in community health centers. Within the total for Community Health Centers, HRSA is expected to fund Native Hawaiian Health Care at no less than the fiscal year 2010 level and directed to continue the Increased Demand for Services funding.

A significant number of Medically Underserved Areas (MUAs) lack necessary access to community health center services. HRSA is urged to continue support of technical assistance and to review policies to determine if other actions can be taken to improve access in MUAs. HRSA is directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations by May 19, 2011, on any actions to improve access to Community Health Centers in MUAs.

HRSA is expected to administer the State Health Access Grant Program in the same manner as in fiscal year 2010.

Health Professions

HRSA should use National Health Service Corps recruitment funds only to support multi-year, rather than single-year, commitments.

Increased access to geriatric health professionals is important to ensure quality care for an aging population. HRSA should work to inform National Health Service Corps applicants about opportunities for geriatric health professionals to encourage training and increase participation. HRSA is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 2011, on the actions taken to encourage geriatric training and improve outreach to geriatric health professionals.

HRSA is urged to improve the level of support provided to minority health professions schools through the Health Careers Opportunity Program. HRSA is directed to report in the fiscal year 2012 budget submission on the actions taken to ensure that those institutions with a historic mission of training minorities in the health professions have the opportunity to compete for grants.

Physician Assistant Training Programs.—Within the funds provided for primary care training and enhancement programs, HRSA is urged to prioritize funds to expand high-quality physician assistant training programs.

Training in Dentistry and Oral Health Innovation Programs.—The bill includes $53,491,000 for training in dentistry and oral health innovation programs authorized by sections 340G, 340G-1, and 748 of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act. HRSA is directed to provide no less than $20,000,000 for state oral health workforce grants, no less than $8,000,000 for pediatric dentistry and no less than fiscal year 2010 levels for other section 748 programs. Within pediatric dentistry, HRSA is directed to support the faculty loan repayment program at no less than last year's level.

Allied Health.—The bill includes $13,363,000 for mental and behavioral health education and training grants and $1,945,000 for the chiropractic program. HRSA is directed to provide no less than $7,000,000 to the graduate psychology program. The need for behavioral and mental health services in an integrated health care system is significant and well documented. An increasing elderly population and significant numbers of returning war veterans are among the factors that have strained the nation's health system as more individuals and their families turn to mental health care professionals in local communities. HRSA is encouraged to expand training sites, reinstate the geropsychology program, initiate a new focus on veterans, and help integrate health service psychology trainees at Federally Qualified Health Centers to provide behavioral and mental health services to underserved populations.

Public Health and Preventive Medicine Programs.—The bill includes $34,834,000 for public health and preventive medicine training, which includes a transfer of $20,000,000 from the Prevention and Public Health Fund. HRSA is directed to provide not less than $7,199,000 for the preventive medicine program. Funds are also included to allow HRSA to begin planning for a loan repayment program.

Nurse Education, Practice, and Retention.—HRSA is directed to use the increase provided for nurse education, practice, and retention to make grants for career ladder programs.

Maternal and Child Health

Within the total provided for Special Projects of Regional and National Significance (SPRANS), the bill includes the following amounts:

Budget activity	This bill	This bill compared to—
		FY 2010	FY 2011 budget request
SPRANS-Oral Health	$5,500,000	+641,000	+641,000
SPRANS-Epilepsy	4,000,000	+292,000	+292,000
SPRANS-Sickle Cell	3,774,000	0	0
SPRANS-Fetal Alcohol	486,000	0	0
SPRANS-Doula	1,504,000	0	0
SPRANS-1st time motherhood	4,956,000	0	0

HRSA is urged to continue support of activities within the maternal and child health program that ensure the wellness and healthy development of our children. Programs such as vision screening and the hemophilia treatment grants help provide the early identification and treatment necessary to improve health outcomes.

Autism and Other Developmental Disorders.—Within the funding provided for autism and other developmental disorders, an increase of not less than $2,000,000 is provided to expand the Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities Program. In addition, an increase of not less than $2,000,000 is provided for research on evidence-based practices for interventions for individuals with autism and other developmental disabilities, for development of guidelines for those interventions, and for information dissemination.

Ryan White Care Act

The bill includes language providing $2,010,365,000 for Parts A and B of the Ryan White HIV/AIDS Treatment Modernization Act, to be available through September 30, 2013.

The bill includes language that limits 2010 program year reductions in Ryan White Part A grants for metropolitan and transitional areas to 9.3 percent by providing $4,919,000 for supplemental grants.

Within funds provided for the AIDS Drug Assistance Program, HRSA shall ensure that those patients that were provided care as a result of funds provided to States pursuant to sections 311 and 2620 of the PHS Act in fiscal year 2010 continue to receive care.

Rural Health Programs

The bill includes $34,927,000 for the Delta Health Initiative and associated administrative expenses.

Rural and Community Access to Emergency Devices (AED).—Immediate cardiopulmonary resuscitation and early intervention, using an AED, can more than double a patient's chance of survival. Communities with comprehensive AED programs, including training of anticipated rescuers, have achieved survival rates of nearly 40 percent. HRSA is encouraged to continue its support of this important program.

Family Planning.—A 2009 Institute of Medicine report found the Title X family planning program to be a success in providing critically needed health services to individuals with the most difficulty accessing family planning care. The report also identified areas in which the program failed to keep pace with changes in overall health care delivery and administration and called for a systematic review and update of the Title X program guidance. HRSA is urged to continue efforts to review and update the Title X program guidance and administrative directives in consultation with Title X providers, administrators and family planning advocates.

The nation's immunization infrastructure is essential for the delivery of routine immunization services as well as public health preparedness and response to vaccine-preventable disease emergencies. As part of the additional funding provided for immunization programs, CDC is directed to develop a strategy to: (1) modernize immunization information systems; (2) prepare public health departments for changes in the healthcare delivery system, including new billing procedures for insured patients; and, (3) strengthen the evidence base to inform immunization policy and program monitoring. The strategy also should address how CDC will maintain and expand partnerships with the healthcare sector to provide routine and emergency immunization services.

CDC shall update the Section 317 Immunization Program report and submit it to the Committees on Appropriations not later than February 1, 2011, to reflect fiscal year 2012 cost estimates and an estimate of optimum CDC, State, and local operations funding needed relative to current levels to conduct and support childhood, adolescent, and adult programs. The report also should include a discussion of specific strategies to improve the overall immunization infrastructure and to reduce barriers and increase adult immunization rates in the United States.

Americans, Latinos, Native Americans, Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders.

CDC is urged to consider using funds provided above the budget request for Viral Hepatitis to increase support for the Adult Viral Hepatitis Prevention Coordinators program and core prevention services, such as educational programs for healthcare and social service providers, at-risk populations, and the general public.

Through the National Healthcare Safety Network, CDC monitors infections, antimicrobial resistance, and other adverse events in hospitals in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Increased funding will be used to develop surveillance in an additional 2,500 hospitals taking the total to 5,000 participating hospitals. Funding will also be used to provide resources and technical expertise to State health departments to achieve healthcare-associated infections (HAI) prevention targets; continue development and implementation of prevention tools, campaigns, education, and training in healthcare settings; and to increase public health workforce capacity to lead HAI

Of the funds provided for the Office on Smoking and Health, $10,000,000 shall be for a new demonstration program on providing expanded cessation services to low-income and uninsured individuals.

Also within the total for the Office of Smoking and Health, CDC is expected to transfer no less than the amount it did in fiscal year 2010 to the Environmental Health Laboratory to support its work to analyze tobacco products and cigarette smoke. This transfer is intended to be provided to the lab in a manner that supplements and in no way replaces existing funding for tobacco-related activities.

CDC's current chronic disease prevention funding streams limit opportunities for coordination and integration across related programs. Therefore, the bill creates a new, consolidated Chronic Disease Prevention Grant Program that includes the following categorical programs: heart disease and stroke; diabetes; arthritis; and nutrition, physical activity, and obesity. This funding shall be used at the State level for core chronic disease prevention leadership, community health promotion, and preventive services. Funding shall not be used to directly support State or local capital infrastructure projects.

The core Chronic Disease Prevention Grant Program will include a base award to each State (including the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico) of not less than $2,000,000 plus additional formula-based funding to be allocated according to population, State chronic disease rates, and socioeconomic factors. CDC shall award not less than 2 percent of the core grant program funds to tribes and tribal organizations and other U.S. territories. In addition to the core award, the bill includes $25,000,000 to be available through fiscal year 2012 for a competitive incentive award for States that achieve or clearly demonstrate progress toward meeting a stated prevention goal or goals. CDC is directed to establish a mechanism to measure performance for this program, including the establishment of baselines and methods of assessing progress toward achieving definable goals. These measures should relate to: community health promotion; preventive services; the full and active participation from other relevant State agencies, including the Departments of Education, Human Services, Aging, and Transportation; the inclusion of special populations (people with disabilities, racial and ethnic populations, students, etc.); surveillance; planning; policy change; and the implementation of evidence-based public health interventions. States shall be required to demonstrate maintenance of effort on the activities previously supported by the categorical programs. Further, CDC should continue to reiterate to its grantees the prohibition against using appropriated funds for lobbying Congress or any State legislature, which is contained in section 503 of this Act.

Grant awards shall be made no later than July 31, 2011. CDC shall adjust current grant cycles to the extent necessary to ensure that States do not experience shortfalls due to the transition.

Also within the total is $49,080,000 for related national activities that support chronic disease prevention. Within the total, sufficient funding is included to maintain the Paul Coverdell National Acute Stroke Registry and $5,000,000 is included to expand CDC's background community assessment of health and related social and environmental conditions in the Mississippi Delta region.

Efforts to promote chronic disease prevention at the national level should continue and CDC's in-house expertise should be maintained. Therefore, within the total provided for the Chronic Disease Prevention Grant Program, the bill sets aside $56,839,000 to maintain CDC's leadership, research, and technical assistance in support of these investments.

Birth Defects, Developmental Disabilities, Disability and Health.—Within the total for Birth Defects, Developmental Disabilities,

Disability and Health, the bill includes the following amounts:

Blood Disorders	17,203,000	—2,707,000	—3,040,000

Increased funding is included for a craniostosis physician awareness campaign as described in Senate report 111-243.

CDC's plan to consolidate the blood disorders programs inadequately addresses the transition from the current approach to the new structure. Therefore, to the extent possible, CDC is expected to continue the current cooperative agreements for blood disorder surveillance and safety to allow for a smooth transition from the current blood disorders program to a new consolidated program. In designing a new blood disorders program, CDC is directed to work with the hemophilia and thalassemia treatment centers and patient organizations to assure that the needs of patients with these and other blood disorders, such as deep vein thrombosis, pulmonary embolism, and diamond blackfan anemia, are appropriately addressed. Prior to obligating any fiscal year 2011 blood disorders program funds, CDC is directed to provide a detailed written summary and to brief the Committees on Appropriations on the programs and activities that will be supported through the blood disorders program and how that distribution compares to prior years.

National Center for Health Statistics.—Sufficient funding is provided within the total for the National Center for Health Statistics to ensure that no State match will be required in fiscal year 2011 under the National Vital Statistics System to begin phasing in electronic death records.

Buildings and Facilities.—Funding provided for CDC buildings and facilities is intended to be used for repairs and improvements to fully restore operations at NIOSH's Lake Lynn Laboratory and Experimental Mine.

Business Services and Support.—The funds for business services and support are intended for CDC to carry out its business functions, including, but not limited to, administrative services, financial management, security and emergency preparedness, and procurement and grants. Neither these funds nor any other funds provided to CDC are to be enhanced through the mechanism of program assessments or tapping at any level.

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

Funding levels for programs within the National Institutes of Health (NIH), along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

National Cancer Institute

The bill provides up to $8,000,000 for facilities repairs and improvements at the National Cancer Institute (NCI)—Frederick Federally Funded Research and Development Center in Frederick, Maryland.

In each of the last 2 years NCI was encouraged to launch a pancreatic cancer-specific research initiative. Pancreatic cancer remains the only major cancer with a survival rate in the single digits. Absent a targeted research effort, any hope for advances in diagnosis and treatment will remain slim. The NCI is urged to take concrete steps to attack this most deadly form of cancer by: (1) establishing a discrete pancreatic cancer research grant program; (2) re-instituting a policy of "exceptions" funding for grant applications that are focused primarily on pancreatic cancer; and (3) including more experts in pancreatic cancer on scientific review panels. Further, the NCI Consensus Report of the National Cancer Institute Clinical Trials Planning Meeting on Pancreas Cancer Treatment, from two years ago does not include an action plan. The NCI is strongly encouraged to develop and implement action steps within 6 months of enactment of this Act and provide the Committees on Appropriations a copy of this action plan.

Office of the Director (OD)

The bill's funding anticipates NIH will operate within the policy assumptions set forth in the budget request, except as modified by this statement. The bill assumes NIH will use an average cost of $401,000 per new and competing awards; the level is corrected for the anomaly NIH identified in its budget request and includes a 1.5 percent increase in fiscal year 2011. The amount provided is expected to support approximately 10,000 new and competing awards. The non-competing awards are provided a 1 percent increase. The bill provides increases of 6 percent for training stipends, 4 percent for Research Management and Support, 2.4 percent for Office of the Director (OD) operations and Programs, Projects, and Activities and 1.5 percent all for other mechanisms. The bill supports $85,000,000 for the NIH Director's New Innovator Award program in the Common Fund, with all other assumptions, other than new initiatives, at the budget request level. The OD level includes $99,044,000 for radiological, nuclear and chemical countermeasures; $50,000,000 for the Cures Acceleration Network (CAN), and $1,500,000 for OD's Division of Program Coordination, Planning, and Strategic Initiatives (DPCPSI) to administer CAN, and increased support for science education in the OD Office of Science Policy to increase collaboration with the Department of Education on scientific education, expand curriculum development and distribution.

The bill supports the requested level for the Clinical and Translational Research Award (CTSA) program and the Basic Behavioral and Social Science Opportunity Network across the Institutes and Centers (ICs). The bill provides up to $50,000,000 to expand the number of targets in the Therapeutic Rare and Neglected Disease initiative. The bill assumes support for the Institutional Development Award program and other OD and ICs program activities are funded as identified in the request.

The bill includes longstanding general provisions such as setting the salary of researchers through NIH grants at Executive Level I, providing transfer authority for the Office of AIDS Research and clarifying that the Director may use transfer authority under section 420A(d) of the Public Health Service Act to transfer funds between the ICs of the NIH. The NIH is directed to provide advance notification each time the Director uses any portion of the transfer or re-programming authority. NIH is directed to provide its final mechanism totals for each fiscal year, in table form, by December 30 following the end of that fiscal year to the Committees on Appropriations.

The NCI is commended for its efforts with the Institute of Medicine (IOM) to review its clinical trials process. The IOM identified a number of concerns that seem to have applicability across all NIH ICs to improve NIH-wide clinical trial activity. The NIH is directed to conduct a trans-NIH review of the applicability of the twelve IOM recommendations to all NIH ICs that conduct clinical trials. The review should examine ways to develop and strengthen NIH-wide policies with a focus on opportunities to improve the incorporation of innovative science, increase speed of initiation and completion, improve the means of setting priorities, and develop better incentives for participation in clinical trials. The IOM report found it takes over 900 days to open a clinical trial, but trials supported with Recovery Act funds developed methods to open studies within 90 days. The NIH is directed to consider how it can incorporate the 90-day model into all clinical trial activity. The review should examine the policies of each IC regarding funding for variable accrual costs per case, and ensure that a consistent guideline applies across NIH. Specifically, the review should examine the viability and effect on speed of opening trials of a multi-tier system in which payments for cost-per-accrual vary according to the time required to open the trial, such as a system that provides a certain amount per accrual case if the opening takes more than 360 days and a higher payment if the opening occurs sooner. Further, the review should examine the methods/processes ICs use to prioritize clinical trials based on peer-review input, funding, and other ways to optimize selection of studies. The NIH is requested to conduct a complete review and submit a report within 1 year of enactment of this Act, discussing the findings, proposed policy changes, implementation timeline, and key measures NIH will use to monitor clinical trial activity.

The bill provides $50,000,000 to support CAN. The program is intended to improve the speed and coordination among basic research, translational research, medicine, biopharmaceutical and regulatory activities to translate scientific discoveries into usable cures and treatments and is directed by a 24-person board. The NIH and CAN Board are urged to include participation by the Food and Drug Administration, the National Science Foundation, the Veterans Health Administration, the Department of Defense (Health Affairs) and other federal agencies, such as the Patent and Trademark Office. The NIH is requested to provide detailed descriptions of the CAN activity in future budget requests as a new section in the budget justification overview volume, similar to the Common Fund. The new section should identify detailed program activities for each CAN focus element with measurable objectives. The bill supports CAN as a trans-NIH activity that is housed within the OD's DPCPSI. Due to the lateness of the fiscal year, if in this initial year, the Director cannot fully obligate the CAN resources, he should transfer remaining funds in a proportional manner to the ICs. NIH is requested to establish a high bar on requests to waive the matching fund requirement, and should provide an annual report to the Committees on Appropriations by October 15 of each year with details on all waiver activity.

NIH has a number of grant mechanisms that are either fully or incrementally (annually) funded based on the purpose, scope, and activity of the award. NIH is requested, starting with the fiscal year 2012 budget request, to provide a table that lists all active grant mechanisms with the purpose, funding type (full or incremental), and the number of actual awards in each mechanism during the last full fiscal year.

NIH is requested, in coordination with the Secretary of HHS, to review their joint processes to facilitate more fully and timely responses to congressional inquiries and to improve their responsiveness regarding requested reports, regulations, and other information. The HHS Secretary is requested to provide a report to the Committees on Appropriations by October 1, 2011, on actions HHS and NIH expect to take to improve responsiveness.

Health Surveillance and Support. In recognition of the increasingly strong evidence of a relationship between youth exposure to alcohol marketing and underage drinking, SAMHSA is encouraged to add to its data collection activities the monitoring and reporting of State laws and regulations that address alcohol marketing targeting young people, including but not limited to: sponsorships of family events, marketing on college campuses, and signage in locales where children are likely to be present.

AGENCY FOR HEALTHCARE RESEARCH AND QUALITY

Funding levels for programs within the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

The bill funds AHRQ through section 241 of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act. In addition, the bill allocates $12,000,000 from the Prevention and Public Health Fund. The following table provides a breakout of key programs and levels of support within funds provided to AHRQ:

Clinical Preventive Services Research	5,000,000	+5,000,000
U.S. Preventive Services Task Force	7,000,000	+2,000,000

The bill provides AHRQ with resources to sustain and support key Patient-Centered Outcomes Health Research (PCHR) activity, which includes up to $5,000,000 within the PCHR total for Centers for Education and Research in Therapeutics (CERTs). The bill does not intend for any PCHR funding included in fiscal year 2011 to be used to mandate coverage, reimbursement, or other policies for any public or private payer. Further, it is recognized that a "one-size-fits-all" approach to patient treatment is not the most medically appropriate solution to treating various conditions. Research conducted should be consistent with departmental policies relating to the inclusion of women and minorities.⁴ AHRQ and NIH are requested to submit a joint report within 180 days after enactment of this Act on results and status of PCHR activity undertaken with Recovery Act funds, ongoing efforts (independent and jointly), and planned activity with the Patient Centered Outcomes Research Institute.

The bill restores funding for the CERTs program within the Crosscutting Activity area and provides funding for additional CERTs in other areas of AHRQ's research portfolio.

AHRQ is urged to support investigator-initiated research aimed at identifying new interventions to reduce healthcare-associated infections (HAIs), the most common of which is Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus Aureus (MRSA). Although in some cases adequate knowledge about how to reduce HAIs is available and the primary barrier is how to implement and apply that knowledge, in other cases, optimal solutions are not apparent.

AHRQ is requested to develop ways to improve and measure HAI information dissemination and adoption by the health care community and strongly encouraged to partner with CDC, NIH, and other agencies on this endeavor.

AHRQ is requested to provide the Committees on Appropriations a report within 180 days after enactment regarding progress on, and plans for, development of new ways to improve dissemination and measure adoption of techniques to reduce HAIs.

There are concerns about declines in the number of, and funding for, training grants for the next generation of researchers. AHRQ is urged to provide greater support to pre- and post-doctoral training grants and fellowships to ensure America stays competitive in the global research market.

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES

Funding levels for programs within the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

Program Management

Funding is included to support medical operations activities that may include required information technology (IT) security and sustainability investments, data encounter, payment system customization, IT infrastructure modernization, and other medical operations workload issues.

CMS may use funds to design a data improvement initiative. Prior to implementation of any data improvement initiative, the Committees on Appropriations must review a 5-year plan for the initiative with cost estimates and timelines. The plan should include measurable objectives divided into 1-year project periods that can be requested and approved through the annual appropriations process. In addition, CMS is directed to provide a comprehensive strategic plan by February 15, 2011, covering all data improvement activity proposed by CMS.

The medical operations level provides up to $5,000,000 to create a test environment for modeling industry solutions in a secure setting. This environment should allow vendors to work independently and with CMS to seek solutions and execute "proof of concept" tests for CMS issues in a secure environment, using Medicare test data, on CMS technical architecture, in an isolated, stand-alone environment for independent vendor testing of industry solutions. The scope should allow "proof of concept" tests to determine solution effectiveness in addressing Medicare issues such as improper payment, quality measurement, data exchange, and concepts developed by the CMS Center for Innovation. The test environment must ensure data privacy and security, comply with CMS technical architecture standards, provide temporary access and secure connectivity for vendor testing, and make relevant data sets available for product testing. Management support should include scheduling and resource allocation, ID management and credentialing, provisioning support, and technical support for vendors related to use of the test environment. CMS should provide the Committees on Appropriations with a report and timeline on the development of the test environment within 180 days after enactment of this Act.

The bill includes $68,000,000 for research activities remaining from the Medicare Improvement for Patients and Providers Act of 2008. The bill includes the requested funding level for all other activities within the Medical Operations account. The bill provides sufficient funding for survey and certification activities to provide surveys of all types of facilities at least once every 6 years. Prior to 2010, some types of facilities were reviewed as infrequently as once every 11.5 years, including ambulatory surgery centers. These types of facilities have been implicated in past outbreaks of healthcare-associated infections (HAIs). Greater frequency of surveys is expected to increase awareness of and reduction in the occurrence of HAIs. CMS is directed to train all State inspectors on CDC's revised HAI interpretative guidelines. With the increased frequency of inspections, surveyors must be equipped to detect evidence of HAIs or faulty procedures that could result in HAIs.

Medicare beneficiaries who are blind or visually impaired are eligible for physician-prescribed rehabilitation services from approved health care professionals on the same basis as beneficiaries with other medical conditions that result in reduced physical functioning. There is concern that the effectiveness of vision rehabilitation services may be compromised by the current exclusion of Medicare coverage of vision assistive equipment. CMS is requested to evaluate the policies relating to vision assistive equipment and devices prescribed: (1) by a Medicare-approved physician in conjunction with Medicare-approved vision rehabilitation services, (2) for purposes other than correcting the refractive state of the eye, (3) to a beneficiary receiving Medicare-approved vision rehabilitation services, or (4) consistent with, and on the same basis, as Medicare coverage provided to beneficiaries receiving durable medical equipment (DME) related to other Medicare-covered rehabilitation services. CMS is requested to provide an update on the progress of the review in the fiscal year 2012 budget request.

The CMS Innovation Center is directed to establish an intra-agency innovation collaboration group with participation from CDC, NIH, AHRQ, HRSA and other appropriate HHS organizations to assist in the identification of promising innovations. These agencies are recognized for their work to improve science and healthcare operations, and their standing in the health care industry can enhance the Center's work. The Center is urged to develop cooperative activities with these agencies.

CMS is urged to ensure its Recovery Audit Contractor Program does not create significant budgetary problems for hospitals that are operating in good faith and whose appeals are eventually settled in their favor. While the process has been modified so that contractors pay now reflects the number of successful denials, the program may still incentivize the volume of citations over the quality. CMS is encouraged to consider evaluating contractors and reviewers to ensure that they are adequately trained and they are not generating unreasonable numbers of overturned denials. CMS should consider alternative ways to reclaim payments while a dispute is in the appeals process and provide the Committees on Appropriations an update in the fiscal year 2012 budget request.

The bill provides resources to expand efforts on preventing fraud, reducing improper payments and paying claims right the first time. CMS is encouraged to continue its efforts to develop a working group with federal agencies, health care, and health insurance industry that includes sharing best practices, data, and other relevant information to decrease health care fraud. CMS should provide a report to the Committees on Appropriations by March 15, 2011, on the first meeting, charter, and future activity planned of this working group.

Refugee and Entrant Assistance.—The Department shall provide a report within 60 days of enactment of this Act to the Committees on Appropriations on how the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) has implemented the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008 (TVPRA) as it relates to unaccompanied alien children (UAC). This report should include information on the number of children transferred to ACF's care including their length of the stay, country of origin, and services provided, as well as costs

Further, within funds for the UAC program, the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) shall use up to $250,000 for an independent evaluation of the UAC program, which shall be submitted by September 30, 2011, to determine if it is operating consistent with child welfare best practices.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

General Departmental Management

Funding levels for programs within the Office of the Secretary—General Departmental Management, along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

The Secretary is directed to provide a plan with milestones, performance measures, and estimated funding levels, including any anticipated transfers to other operating divisions and offices of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), to the Committees on Appropriations by April 1, 2011, on its base acquisition workforce activities and on specific activities supported above the base due to the increased funding provided for the new acquisition workforce capacity initiative.

The bill includes $800,000 for the National Academy of Sciences (NAS) to update its 2005 report titled, "Assessment of the Scientific Information for the Radiation Exposure Screening and Education Program." NAS should review new scientific data to determine whether the current Radiation Exposure Compensation Act (RECA) program should be expanded. More specifically, the study should include recommendations as to whether additional diseases or illnesses, classes of workers, and geographic areas should be compensated through RECA.

Continued funding is provided in the Office of the Secretary to coordinate the Department's efforts to address healthcare-associated infections (HAIs). The Secretary is urged to expand the Department's current focus for reducing HAIs from hospitals to all healthcare settings, including outpatient facilities.

The Hepatitis Interagency Workgroup is directed to develop and publicly release a national strategy to reduce new hepatitis B and C infections and the morbidity and mortality related to chronic viral hepatitis, as well as linkage to care no later than February 1, 2011. In addition, the Hepatitis Interagency Workgroup, in collaboration with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, shall submit a report by April 1, 2011, on each of the recommendations made in the Institute of Medicine report, "Hepatitis and Liver Cancer: A National Strategy for Prevention and Control of Hepatitis B and C" and on the steps HHS has taken to adopt them.

The Secretary shall report, not later than March 31, 2011, on up-to-date, State-by-State monthly trends in participation in the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program and related matters. Data shall include caseload and benefit levels, eligibility requirement, diversion and sanctions policies, and term limits. TITLE III

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Funding levels for programs within the Department of Education, along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in a table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

EDUCATION FOR THE DISADVANTAGED

Title I Grants to Local Educational Agencies.—To meet the educational needs of American Indian students, the Secretary of Education is directed to ensure that Bureau of Indian Education schools receive no less than 0.7 percent of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) Title I grants pursuant to regular appropriations and will receive this amount in relevant future emergency funding, consistent with the standard practice prior to the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

School Improvement Grants (SIG).—Many children in schools receiving SIG funds face myriad personal, familial, and community challenges (including exposure to trauma and poverty-related stressors), and these challenges follow students into their schools, often resulting in distracting, disruptive, and ineffective learning environments. Even the best school leaders and teachers cannot achieve optimal results unless poverty-related barriers to teaching, learning, and school organization are addressed and effective conditions for learning are established. These barriers to teaching and learning must be addressed in addition to in-school factors in order to achieve sustained academic success.

The Department is therefore directed to require that States and local educational agencies that receive school improvement funding use it to develop programs, policies, and practices to improve student learning and increase academic achievement. Specifically, in addition to addressing factors such as the usage of time, instructional practices, and professional development and supports, the Department is directed to require that all recipients of school improvement funds have a plan in place for addressing the academic and non-academic needs of individual students, including improving the overall school climate where necessary. At minimum, such plans shall assess and address as appropriate the development of school-based systems to identify and address individual student academic, behavioral or social needs; support a positive and developmentally appropriate school climate; and identify how families and the community will be engaged in the school turnaround process.

The Department also is directed to encourage grantees to utilize external partners, where appropriate, with proven expertise in turning around low-performing schools, particularly in terms of establishing effective conditions for teaching and learning.

The bill intends that the term “low-performing feeder middle school” apply to an elementary or secondary school that contains not less than two or more successive grades beginning with grade 5 and ending with grade 8 and for which a high proportion of the students go on to attend a high school with a graduation rate of less than 60 percent; and more than 50 percent of the students do not perform at a proficient level on State student academic assessments required under section 111(b)(3) of the ESEA in mathematics or reading or language arts.

Early Learning Challenge Fund.—Within the Early Learning Challenge Fund, funds should be used to improve the quality of early learning programs and services for disadvantaged children from birth through the age of kindergarten entry. In addition, any use of assessments should conform with the recommendations of the National Research Council’s reports on early childhood.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS

Funding is not included within the total provided for State Assessments for a competitive grant program designed to support State efforts to improve their assessment systems.

21st Century Community Learning Centers (CCLC).—The bill includes language to expand program eligibility for subgrants under the 21st CCLC program.μ An increase of $135,000,000 is provided above the fiscal year 2010 level so that funding can be provided for both after- school and expanded-learning-time programs without causing students in working families that benefit from currently operating afterschool programs to lose critical afternoon enrichment and supervision while their parents are at work.

State educational agencies shall require that existing subgrantees seeking to substantially change activities implemented using continuation funds from their multi-year awards demonstrate how the needs of at-risk students most in need of afterschool services who are no longer served under such new activities will continue to have their needs met, such as by phasing in the new services and making referrals to other providers offering comparable services.

Local school districts and community partners are best suited to determine the appropriate use of funds to address the needs of their respective students, school and community.μ To that end, State educational agencies should award grants to high-quality programs that address individual student learning needs and student well-being. Funded programs should (1) deliver services through a variety of high-quality and effective strategies for boosting learning and enrichment including after-school, before school, summer school, and extended day, week or year opportunities; and (2) align with and complement, rather than replicate, the regular school day, by offering a range of activities that capture student interest and support student engagement to promote higher class attendance, reduce risk for retention or dropping out, and include activities that promote good health.

The Department is directed to provide guidance and technical assistance to States, schools and community partners on how to ensure strong community-school partnerships, continuous quality improvement and that programs meet the needs of individual students.

INNOVATION AND IMPROVEMENT

Teacher Incentive Fund.—With respect to 2010 awards under the Teacher Incentive Fund, the Department is directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations the information provided by grantees related to the process and data used to demonstrate the extent of teacher and school leader support and involvement in the performance-based compensation system; the process by which the Department will monitor and assess planning grantee activities related to the support and involvement of teachers and school leaders in the performance-based compensation system; and the actions the Department will take if planning grantees do not achieve adequate involvement and support of teachers and school leaders in such systems. The Committees also expect to be informed of how this information will be used in structuring the fiscal year 2011 grant application and evaluating applications submitted under the competition. This report should be provided not later than 60 days after enactment of this Act.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Funding levels for programs within the Social Security Administration (SSA), along with comparisons to last year's levels and the budget request, are shown in the table at the end of this division. Any allocations of funding beyond the level of detail in that table are indicated below.

The bill includes $1,863,000 within Limitation on Administration Expenses (LAE) to improve the SSA's acquisition workforce capacity. SSA is directed to provide a plan with milestones, performance measures, and estimated funding levels to the Committees on Appropriations by April 1, 2011, on its base activities and specific activities supported above the base due to this initiative.

In order to improve transparency and accountability of unobligated balances of prior-year funds that remain available only for IT and telecommunication initiatives, the bill directs creation of a specific no-year Information Technology and Telecommunications Investment Fund (ITTI Fund) within the LAE account. SSA is directed to include information in its annual budget request on the ITTI Fund, including actual and planned balances, transfers, and expenditures, as well as funds remaining unobligated in prior-year expired accounts. The budget request should also include consolidated information on actual and planned IT and telecommunications investments, including actual and planned uses of these funds and annually appropriated funds used for the same purposes. The bill also rescinds $455,700,000 from unobligated balances of prior year funds remaining available for investments in IT and telecommunication activities pursuant to special language that has been carried in annual appropriations legislation for a number of years.

As processing time for initial disability claims continues to increase, the Commissioner is requested to develop and implement a plan to reduce processing times to below the fiscal year 2007 level as an initial target, and to use additional resources toward this goal in fiscal year 2011. The Commissioner should report to the Committees on Appropriations not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act on the timeline, plan, and steps taken to move toward this goal. The Commissioner is also urged to expedite as much as possible the plan to reduce the current backlog of disability hearings.

The Committees appreciate the Commissioner's decision to delay the planned reinstatement of the reconsideration stage of disability review in States where it has been eliminated as SSA examines other activities to speed up final determinations. SSA is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations within 180 days of enactment of this Act evaluating the reinstatement of the reconsideration stage and other options. SSA is also requested to develop a mechanism to track productivity at the program level (for example DDS, ODAR, and SSA's Operations components including field offices, Payment Service Centers, information technology, and teleservice centers) and report this information in the fiscal year 2012 request along with related impact on program costs.

The bill includes up to $13,360,000 within the SSI program to be used through an inter-agency agreement with the Department of Labor (DOL) to develop an occupational information network by extending DOL's Occupational Information Network (O*NET)/SOC structure and content model framework to meet SSA needs. While not as robust as required by SSA, O*NET could be leveraged to support SSA's requirements and reduce the overall cost of the project by utilizing DOL's occupational information experts and building on a product that is already developed. The inter-agency agreement should build on pre-existing efforts of both agencies, and address measurable goals, roles and responsibilities, and budget. DOL should solicit input and recommendations from SSA and outside experts, including convening an expert advisory panel jointly selected by DOL and SSA. The SSA and DOL are directed to submit a joint report to the Committees on Appropriations, the House Committee on Ways and Means, and the Senate Finance Committee, with a timeline, major milestones, and projected 5-year costs of this project within 180 days of enactment of this Act and annual progress reports thereafter. The initial report should address plans for research and feasibility testing.

The required operating plan and reprogramming rules in the bill apply to SSA at the program, project, and activity level for all funds provided. The Committees on Appropriations should be notified in advance of any realignment of funds within the specific activities identified on the Extramural Research & Demonstration budget tables supplied for the fiscal year 2011 House hearing record. The operating plan and any reprogramming should include the prior year actual, budget request level, current level (if applicable) and the new operating plan level at this level of detail. In addition, future budget requests and operating plans should include funding levels in at least as much detail.

DIVISION I—LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2011

Following is an explanation of the effects of Division I, which makes appropriations for the Legislative Branch for fiscal year 2011. As provided in section 4 of the consolidated bill, this explanatory statement shall have the same effect with respect to the allocation of funds and the implementation of this division as if it were a joint explanatory statement of a committee of conference.

TITLE I

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS SENATE

The bill provides $925,986,000 for Senate operations. Inasmuch as these items relate solely to the Senate, and in accordance with long practice under which each body determines its own housekeeping requirements and the other concurs without intervention, the House has accepted the proposal of the Senate.

The language and allocations related to the Senate contained in Senate Report 111-294 should be complied with unless specifically addressed to the contrary in the explanatory statement.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The bill provides $1,371,172,000 for the operations and maintenance of the House of Representatives (hereafter, "House"). Inasmuch as these items relate solely to the House, and in accordance with long practice under which each body determines its own housekeeping requirements and the other concurs without intervention, the Senate has accepted the proposal of the House.

MEMBERS' REPRESENTATIONAL ALLOWANCES

The bill provides $652,000,000 for the representational allowances of the Members of the House for staff salaries, official expenses, and official mail (MRA). This amount is $8,000,000 below the fiscal year 2010 level to reflect the current spending patterns of Members, many of whom do not expend their full authorized level. Based on actual spending data, $652,000,000 is a sufficient level in which to support the current individual authorization levels for Members, established by the Committee on House Administration, which totaled $671,742,822 at the beginning of the 2010 legislative calendar year. It is the longstanding practice of the House Committee on Appropriations to appropriate less than the authorized level to account for projected savings by Members. Furthermore, the bill continues longstanding language returning excess MRA funds to the Treasury.

SALARIES, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

The bill provides $193,011,000 for the salaries and expenses of House officers and employees of the various activities funded through this consolidated item, including the House Sergeant at Arms (SAA), Clerk of the House, and Chief Administrative Officer of the House (CAO).

Access to Buildings.—In the fiscal year 2010 House report, the SAA was directed to report on the causes for delay in accessing the House Office Buildings and the Capitol Building through the Rayburn and Cannon tunnels. While the SAA's report contained a proposed strategy to expedite lines, it is either not being followed or the strategy does not work. Complaints continue regarding the wait times for both visitors and staff. Therefore the SAA and the Capitol Police are directed to find a permanent solution to the problem and present a detailed plan to the House Committee on Appropriations by February 4, 2011 for all House side entrances that reduces wait time for visitors to no longer than 10 minutes during peak time.

Services for Members and Staff.—The CAO's office markedly improved its services and outreach in the past few months which has reduced the number of complaints regarding services that are under the jurisdiction of the CAO. However, challenges remain, specifically with regard to the Office of Payroll and Benefits and Office of Financial Counseling. To underscore the seriousness of providing basic services to the House, and to ensure the CAO's office continues on its path of improvements, the bill withholds $20,000,000 of the Office of the CAO's appropriation from obligation until the CAO presents a "House Services Action Plan" to the House Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on House Administration. The plan shall certify that: (1) regular meetings are scheduled with major staff organizations, and (2) a user satisfaction survey is implemented for the Office of Payroll and Benefits and the Office of Financial Counseling with plans to conduct the survey annually.

Food Prices.—The recent introduction of budget-friendly meals in the House cafeterias, including the "Heroes on the Hill" concept, has been encouraging. The CAO is directed to continue to work with the food vendor to diversify food choices and offer lower food prices.

U.S. Capitol Historical Society.—The U.S. Capitol Historical Society is chartered by the Congress to educate the public on the history and heritage of the U.S. Capitol building, its institutions and the people who have served therein. Its expertise will be needed as the Capitol undergoes much needed preservation work over the next decade, including work on the iconic Dome. The House Historian and CAO, along with the Architect of the Capitol, are encouraged to work with the Society in its effort to preserve and catalog the history of the Capitol.

Web site security.—Recent cyber attacks on House websites, the latest of which defaced the official Web sites of over 40 Members, highlighted vulnerabilities in the House's ability to prevent cyber attacks. House leadership directed the CAO to examine solutions for strengthening the security features of Web sites, including those hosted by outside vendors. The CAO shall submit the budget impact for any future cyber security plans no later than 6 weeks after enactment of this Act to the House Committee on Appropriations.

Diversity.—The recent House compensation study illustrates ongoing challenges in creating a diverse workforce in the House. Among respondents to the survey, 7.5 percent of Chiefs of Staff identified as black not of Hispanic origin and 2.7 percent of Chiefs of Staff identified as Hispanic. By comparison to the nation at large, based on the 2008 census estimate, 12.8 percent of the U.S. population is black and 15.4 percent is Hispanic. The work to diversify the staff has started in the House with the Speaker's announcement of a new diversity initiative to be led by the Committee on House Administration. The House is commended on starting the process to build a workforce as diverse as the Nation that the Congress serves.

Office of Congressional Ethics.—The bill provides $2,020,000 for the Office of Congressional Ethics (OCE). The bill does not provide $268,000 requested by OCE for lease payments, but instead provides the funding in the Architect of the Capitol's House Office Building account to make the lease payments on OCE's behalf. Funding is also provided for OCE to take over its web services payments from the House CAO.

Energy Demonstration Projects.—The bill does not provide funding for Energy Demonstration projects due to the slow pace of implementing the program, but the House Committee on Appropriations supports the program's goal to make the House a leader in promoting cutting-edge energy technologies and practices which save energy.

JOINT ITEMS

JOINT ECONOMIC COMMITTEE

The bill provides $4,814,000 for the Joint Economic Committee.

JOINT COMMITTEE ON TAXATION

The bill provides $11,327,000 for the Joint Committee on Taxation.

OFFICE OF THE ATTENDING PHYSICIAN

The bill provides $3,407,000 for the Office of the Attending Physician.

OFFICE OF CONGRESSIONAL ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $1,377,000 for the operation of the Office of Congressional Accessibility Services.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION

The bill includes a new provision regarding the student loan program for the Office of Congressional Accessibility Services.

CAPITOL POLICE

New Posts.—The Capitol Police (USCP) is directed to provide a list of all new posts created in the past year, and further directs USCP to notify the Committees on Appropriations when new posts are created, including the annualized cost of maintaining the new posts and how the costs will be offset (such as elimination of lower priority posts).

Capitol Police Board.—The Government Accountability Office is directed to review the governance practices that the Board has adopted and determine whether improvements or changes are needed in the Board's mission, structure, functions, and processes.

Senate Office Buildings Business Hours.—USCP testified at a March 4th hearing that it conducted a study to identify door closures during non-business hours that would lead to significant savings in overtime. The Senate Committee on Appropriations has yet to receive the results of this study. The Chief of Police is directed to complete this study and present the recommendations to the Senate Committee on Appropriations within 60 days of enactment of this Act.

SALARIES

The bill provides $279,224,000 for the salaries and benefits for USCP. Using the latest salary estimates from USCP, this level of funding is expected to support a staffing level of 1,800 sworn officers and 393 civilian positions. USCP shall prioritize hiring for the positions of Chief Administrative Officer and Chief Financial Officer. In addition, within the total provided for salaries, $29,195,000 is available for overtime.

Fiscal Mismanagement.—USCP underestimated its salaries appropriation requirements in fiscal year 2010 and subsequently requested to transfer approximately $5 million from General Expenses to Salaries to cover the shortfall and ensure no officers were furloughed. The Committees on Appropriations approved the request which effectively increased the police's salaries base by 2 percent in fiscal year 2010. USCP's recent salary miscalculation is the latest indication of an agency with poor financial controls. The Chief of Police is directed to work with USCP's Inspector General (IG) and the GAO to close longstanding open recommendations on correcting these weaknesses in internal controls. Previous IG and GAO reports have issued recommendations to correct deficiencies, including in the financial management systems that could have prevented this recent problem. Most of these recommendations were never implemented. The GAO and IG are working to analyze and group previous open recommendations. Once that analysis is complete, USCP is directed to develop and submit to the Committees on Appropriations for approval, by January 28, 2011, a Corrective Action Plan (CAP) that details how the agency will implement the results of the GAO and IG analysis and identify any other actions the agency plans to take to substantively improve its business practices. The GAO and IG shall review the CAP after it is submitted to the Committees and provide the Committees with an evaluation of the sufficiency of the plan to put USCP on a path to correcting long-standing deficiencies.

The IG is directed to audit the fiscal year 2012 Capitol Police budget submission. The audit shall determine the reasonableness of the budget for salaries and benefits and be submitted to the Committees on Appropriations within 45 days after the USCP budget is transmitted to Congress.

GENERAL EXPENSES

The bill provides $57,985,000 for all general expenses of USCP. No funding is included for new project requests for fiscal year 2011.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

Payments from the Settlement Fund.—OOC is directed to submit semi-annual reports on disbursements for awards and settlements under subsection (a) of section 415 of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995. These reports should include, by agency and for the preceding three year period, the annual average number of settlements and the annual average dollar amount disbursed.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $46,905,000 for the Congressional Budget Office (CBO). The amount provided supports full-time equivalents hired with 2009 supplemental funds.

Diversity Initiatives.—CBO is uniquely positioned to introduce women and minorities to the field of economics as well as to the legislative branch of government. CBO is encouraged to utilize its unique position to not only recruit a diverse workforce, but to also build a workforce by working with younger students to expose them to the field of economics.

ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL

The bill includes $581,665,000 for the Architect of the Capitol. In addition to the amounts provided in this bill, the Committees on Appropriations have approved AOC's requests to transfer and reprogram $23,614,625 in prior year balances. AOC has applied these balances to 15 construction projects which it originally requested in its 2011 budget submission.

Capital Construction in Support of Client Agency Missions.—For fiscal year 2012 and beyond, client agencies of the AOC are directed to include detailed justifications of each capital improvement or capital construction project being requested on their behalf by AOC and include proposed cuts within their own agency budget to offset the costs of such projects.

Recycling.—Efforts by AOC and the Capitol Police to implement outdoor recycling programs, while maintaining security of the complex, are encouraging. Expanding these efforts will further reduce solid waste. AOC and the Capitol Police are directed to collaborate on installing additional recycling receptacles next to existing garbage receptacles in high-traffic areas across the Capitol complex.

Recharging Stations.—AOC is directed to study the feasibility and costs of providing access to recharging stations for electric powered vehicles. The study shall include an examination of a fee for service model and the potential role for private vendors in financing and administering such a program. The report shall be provided to the Committees on Appropriations no later than 3 months after enactment of this Act.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

The bill provides $109,294,000 for personnel services, equipment, communications, additional office lease payments, and other central support activities of AOC. This amount supports an operating budget of $101,795,000. The following table displays the project budget detail.

Energy Reduction Program Conservation of Fine Architectural Art	3,500,000

Energy Savings Performance Contracts (ESPCs).—AOC is implementing a variety of procedures and facilities improvements to meet ambitious energy conservation goals, including those mandated by the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007. ESPCs, a Federal government-wide contract mechanism used to finance energy reduction projects, are a key component of AOC's strategy. In past years, AOC has been directed to use ESPCs to achieve energy efficiency. Since that time, an Inspector General review has found that private financing expenses have increased the cost of one ESPC by 60 percent above the cost of identical work if financed by direct appropriations. Prior to entering into any future ESPCs, AOC is directed to submit a cost comparison to the Committees on Appropriations of alternative financing options, including direct appropriation of all or part of the project cost.

Cannon Building Renewal.—The Government Accountability Office (GAO) has testified that AOC is taking a reasonable approach to project planning for the renewal of the historic Cannon House Office Building. AOC is urged to incorporate a full review of long-term facilities needs of the House into these early planning phases to avoid costly design changes after construction has begun. In addition, GAO shall continue to monitor the progress and schedule of the project and to inform AOC and the House Committee on Appropriations as issues arise. The Cannon project presents an opportunity to modernize emergency evacuation systems. AOC is directed to consult with the House Sergeant at Arms to incorporate any improvements to emergency evacuation systems during the planning and design phases of Cannon and other House office building capital renewal projects.

CAPITOL POWER PLANT

The bill provides $109,069,000 for the Capitol Power Plant supplemented by offsetting collections of $8,000,000. This amount supports an appropriated operating budget of $93,969,000. The following table displays the project budget detail.

This amount supports an operating budget of $19,830,000, including funds for grounds maintenance of the 12 acres of land conveyed from the District of Columbia under Public Law 109-396. As Public Law 109-396 did not mandate a specific use for the property, AOC shall consult with the Committees on Appropriations and the relevant authorizing Committees before deciding on the use of the land. The following table displays the project budget detail.

Item	Amount Provided
Fall Protection, CPBG&S ..	$1,024,000
Energy Audit Implementation	2,912,000
Minor Construction	2,500,000
Total	$6,436,000

BOTANIC GARDEN

The bill provides $13,834,000 for salaries and expenses of the Botanic Garden (BG). This amount supports an operating budget of $12,329,000. The following table displays the project budget detail.

Item	Amount Provided
Bartholdi Park Restoration Phase IV	$1,209,000

Education and Outreach.—The BG's education and outreach programs have leveraged the organization's unparalleled expertise to provide unique educational opportunities for at-risk and other youth. The BG is urged to continue forming partnerships with national and local organizations to advance these educational goals. In addition, the BG is directed to explore the feasibility of establishing a community garden within the Capitol complex and to report to the Committees on Appropriations within 3 months after enactment of this Act on its findings.

CAPITOL VISITOR CENTER

The bill provides $22,771,000 for the operation of the Capitol Visitor Center (CVC). This operating budget includes no funding for hiring an interpretive curator or a special assistant to the Chief Executive Officer of visitor services.

Signage in the CVC.—AOC is urged to work expeditiously toward the installation of permanent wayfinding signage and to explore the use of additional maps in all areas of the CVC.

Accessibility Shuttles.—Maintaining access for mobility-impaired visitors is an essential responsibility of the visitor services staff. Therefore, the bill funds the operation of the six shuttles to transport such visitors between the unloading location for buses and accessible CVC entrances. AOC is directed to evaluate the performance of the shuttles during periods of peak use and to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations within 3 months after enactment of this Act. The report should include data on traffic volume, a summary of any visitor or stakeholder feedback, and an evaluation of the adequacy of current shuttle capacity.

Assisted Listening Devices.—AOC should continue to work aggressively to resolve performance issues with assisted listening devices (ALDs) issued to CVC visitors, which have experienced high rates of failure. AOC shall submit, with the 2012 budget submission, a report on the operational status of the current inventory of ALDs. The report shall provide details on the current performance of the ALDs and the actions AOC has taken, or is pursuing, to address any problems thereof. Furthermore, AOC should inform the Committees on Appropriations of any new technologies it is exploring and shall re-evaluate the practice of routinely issuing ALDs to visitors who are not hearing impaired, which contributes to their heavy use.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $436,995,000, plus authority to spend $6,350,000 in receipts, for salaries and expenses of the Library of Congress (LOC). This amount provides for 2,942 FTEs, which may be shifted among programs, projects, and activities within this appropriation. Within the total provided, no less than last year's levels are provided for various programs, including $250,000 for the Civil Rights Oral History Project, $2,571,000 for the Veterans Oral History program, $6,677,000 for the National Digital Information, Infrastructure and Preservation Program (NDIIPP), $2,256,000 for the Global Legal Information Network (GLIN), $7,315,000 for the digital collections and educational curricula program and $150,000 to continue the Archie Green fellowship program in the American Folklife Center. LOC is directed to continue its ongoing work to obtain copyright permission to bring the Franklin Collection online in a digital format. The amount includes $10,000,000 to continue LOC's information technology upgrades. In addition, as noted on page 38 of Senate Report 111-294, LOC is directed to report to the Committee by June 1, 2011 on progress made on the planning and development of the "America Works" digital oral history project.

Acquisitions Policies and Space Needs.—LOC and the Architect of the Capitol are directed to collaborate on a study to find lower cost alternatives to meeting LOC's long term collection storage needs and to transmit a report to the Committees on Appropriations within 6 months of enactment of this Act. The study shall consider, in addition to facilities-based solutions, the Library's acquisition policies which are the driver for its space needs.

COPYRIGHT OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill contains $21,604,000, plus authority to spend $34,390,000 in receipts, for the Copyright Office.

Copyright Backlog.—A recent LOC Inspector General (IG) report highlighted positive developments pertaining to the claims backlog since September 2009. According to the IG, the number of claims in the backlog has consistently declined, the productivity of registration specialists has significantly increased, and the percentage of claims submitted electronically has increased. The LOC must pursue the goal to eliminate the copyright backlog.

CONGRESSIONAL RESEARCH SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $114,341,000 for salaries and expenses of the Congressional Research Service (CRS).

Telework.—The Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, 2010 conference report directed CRS to adopt and implement a telework system to provide employees a flexible work environment to help them manage the complex balance between work and family obligations. CRS finally adopted a policy in March 2010. To ensure that the policy meets the needs of employees, CRS is directed to conduct a survey of employees to evaluate how the implementation of the program is progressing. CRS is directed to provide the results of the evaluation to the Committees on Appropriations no later than 3 months after enactment of this Act.

BOOKS FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $70,500,000 for salaries and expenses of the Books for the Blind and Physically Handicapped program.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The bill includes longstanding administrative provisions for LOC. In addition the bill includes new administrative provisions related to workers compensation, gifts and revolving funds, and surplus and obsolete property.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $42,682,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Superintendent of Documents.

Coordination with Library of Congress (LOC) on Electronic Databases.—Both the Government Printing Office (GPO) and the LOC are pursuing large scale projects to digitize Federal government documents and publications. GPO and LOC are encouraged to collaborate closely and pursue any beneficial formal agreements to avoid duplication of effort.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
REVOLVING FUND

The bill provides $8,127,000 for the Government Printing Office Revolving Fund.

Federal Digital System (FDsys).—In addition to appropriated amounts for FDsys, GPO is directed to complete Release 2 development requirements using up to $951,000 from prior year balances transferred from the Office of the Superintendent of Documents. GPO shall provide advance notification to the Committees on Appropriations prior to obligating these funds. It is expected that FDsys will have complete core functionality upon the completion of Release 2 and will require no further appropriations for currently planned development.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Complaints.—GPO has taken steps to address discrimination and harassment through training and outreach, which have correlated with a decrease in EEO complaints in the first three quarters of fiscal year 2010 compared to the same period of fiscal year 2009. GPO shall continue these efforts and explore additional management actions to prevent and address discrimination and harassment at all levels, both supervisory and non-supervisory. GPO is directed to continue to submit quarterly reports on actions taken to reduce the number of complaints. These reports shall include a comparison of the number of complaints outstanding at the time of the report compared to the previous quarter and the same time period of the previous two years, and should explain reasons for any increase or reduction in complaints.

E-Passport Supply Chain Security.—The March 31, 2010, report by GPO Office of the Inspector General noted a number of potential vulnerabilities in supplier review processes and contracting practices, especially with respect to significant subcontractors. GPO management concurred with the report's recommendations and has implemented or planned corrective actions, including the hiring of a Director of Product Security and initiation of a Vendor Security Audit Program. GPO is directed to report quarterly to the Committees on Appropriations on the status of remedial actions for each recommendation, and to promptly notify the Committees of any other studies, management reforms, and changes in procedures with respect to supply chain security.

GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY OFFICE SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $558,430,000 in direct appropriations for the Government Accountability Office (GAO), plus $19,500,000 in offsetting collections derived from reimbursements for conducting financial audits of government corporations and rental of space in the GAO building.

Technology Assessments.—Within the amount provided, $2,500,000 is for GAO to continue its work on technology assessment studies. GAO has received funding from Congress for this program for 3 years to aid the Congress's understanding of complex legislative proposals and save taxpayer dollars by preventing spending on ineffective programs. While GAO has produced high quality analysis, it is unclear what impact, if any, the analysis has had on the formulation of policy in Congress. Funding technology assessments at GAO may not be an adequate replacement for the former Office of Technology Assessment (OTA), which was uniquely positioned to analyze technological developments in the public and private sector and harness outside expertise in the form of advisory panels and peer review. Therefore, within the total provided, GAO is directed to contract with the National Academy of Sciences

(NAS) for a study on the structural needs and governance of a Congressional technology assessment group that will provide Congress with comprehensive and timely studies on scientific and technical matters which can be widely disseminated to support the legislative process. NAS shall look at all options for how to structure this group as long as it is bicameral and bipartisan in nature. NAS shall work with the Committees on Appropriations, the Committee on Science and Technology of the House and the Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation of the Senate in conducting its review and provide a final report to these Committees after completion. The review should be complete by August 2011.

OPEN WORLD LEADERSHIP CENTER TRUST FUND

The bill provides $12,000,000 for payment to the Open World Leadership Center Trust Fund. Open World must find support for its activities beyond annual appropriations given its unique mission in comparison with other Legislative Branch agencies that serve core legislative branch activities. Therefore, the agency is directed to hire a full-time development officer in order to fulfill its requirement to increase its fundraising goals.

JOHN C. STENNIS CENTER FOR PUBLIC SERVICE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

The bill provides $430,000 for the John C. Stennis Center.

TITLE II GENERAL PROVISIONS

The bill includes longstanding provisions for the legislative branch and a new general provision rescinding $20,000,000 from the Architect of the Capitol.

REPROGRAMMING GUIDELINES

For fiscal year 2011 a reprogramming shall include the reallocation of funds from one program, project, or activity (PPA) to another within any appropriation funded in this Act. A reprogramming shall also consist of any significant departure from the program described in the agency's budget justification and any change to the organization table presented in the budget justification, whether or not it would require a change in funding.

Reprogrammings are required if an agency proposes to reallocate amounts in excess of $500,000 or 10 percent, whichever is less, between PPAs. In addition, reprogrammings are required for actions below these thresholds, if the action would have the effect of: committing the agency to significant funding requirements in future years; increasing funds or personnel for any PPA for which funds have been previously denied or restricted by Congress; creating new programs, offices, agencies or commissions or substantially augmenting existing programs, offices, agencies or commissions; significantly changing policy; or reorganizing offices, programs, or activities. Each reprogramming should be transmitted through a formal letter which should be signed by the agency head. It should include a specific justification for each increase as well as for each offsetting reduction being proposed. The Committees on Appropriations are to be notified 15 days prior to any reprogramming. The House and Senate shall submit their reprogrammings to their respective Committee on Appropriations.

Multiple funding reprogramming requests suggest an agency's inability to manage within appropriated funds and indicate the need for change in the execution of the agency's budget. Specific spending levels are detailed in the bill and this accompanying explanatory report and agencies shall not use the reprogramming process as a mechanism for making routine changes to these directions. A reprogramming should be made only when an unforeseen situation arises that could not have been anticipated when formulating the budget request for the current fiscal year. Reprogrammings should be used only in the case of unanticipated needs or significant and unexpected changes in program requirements.

DISCLOSURE OF EARMARKS AND CON- GRESSIONALLY DIRECTED SPENDING ITEMS

Neither the bill nor the explanatory statement contains any congressional earmarks or congressionally directed spending items (as defined in clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives and rule XLIV of the Standing Rules of the Senate, respectively). Neither the bill nor the explanatory statement contains any limited tax benefits or limited tariff benefits as defined in the applicable House and Senate rules.

TITLE I
DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, ARMY

The bill appropriates $3,891,395,000 for Military Construction, Army. Within this amount, the bill provides $190,000,000 for Army trainee barracks. The bill also provides $103,000,000 to construct an urgently needed new water treatment and distribution system at Fort Irwin, California. The cost of this project is offset by funds available from bid savings on previously appropriated projects.

The bill does not include $19,000,000 requested for a commissary to serve the United States Southern Command headquarters. An administrative provision is included in this title ensuring that non-appropriated funds may be used for construction of this project.

The bill includes a general reduction of $263,000,000 to account for the carryover of unobligated balances resulting from bid savings on projects appropriated in prior years.

The bill includes language prohibiting the obligation or expenditure of funds on projects supporting new initiatives in Germany until the Department of Defense completes an evaluation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Strategic Concept Review and an accompanying review of the United States defense posture in Europe, a "Front End Assessment" of the Department's global posture for fiscal years 2012 to 2016, and the Secretary of Defense certifies to the requirement for each Army military construction project in Germany funded in this Act. In addition, the Department of Defense is directed to provide to the congressional defense committees, no later than March 15, 2011, a comprehensive Army basing strategy for Europe based on the assessments identified above, including a project-based cost estimate and timeline to fully implement the strategy.

Camp Lemonnier, Djibouti.—The Committees are concerned that the limited amount of land available to the U.S. military at Camp Lemonnier could negatively impact the ability to accommodate the full mission and the projected military population at the installation. The Committees are further concerned that the Navy's current military construction program for Camp Lemonnier amounts to an ad hoc approach that does not adequately reflect priority requirements for the optimal siting of facilities. The Secretary of the Navy is therefore directed to provide to the congressional defense committees, with the fiscal year 2012 budget submission, a comprehensive master plan for Camp Lemonnier that provides a validated land requirement for the installation sufficient to accommodate the facilities and anticipated steady-state personnel requirements to accomplish the missions of Africa Command (AFRICOM) and Joint Task Force-Horn of Africa. The master plan shall incorporate an integrated vulnerability assessment to ensure that necessary anti-terrorism and force protection measures are being implemented. The plan shall also include a list of projected military construction projects, by fiscal year, for fiscal years 2012-2016, with a focus on meeting the urgent requirements of the installation, including utilities and troop housing, in the near term. Further, AFRICOM and Navy are urged to work closely with the Department of Defense, the Department of State, and the Government of Djibouti to expand the footprint of the installation to meet the requirements noted above and to develop a long term access agreement.

To address this problem, the Department is directed to include in the fiscal year 2012 budget request and thereafter a document comparable to the Department of Defense Form 1391 indicating key baseline data for each project to identify its original scope. If the scope of a project changes, the Department is required to notify immediately the Committees. Such a timeline should make scope changes less likely. These procedures will align VA construction directives with those for the military construction projects funded in this Act.

The Secretary of State is directed to continue in fiscal year 2011 the semi-annual reporting requirement on the hiring, training, and deploying of new staff described under this heading in the explanatory statement accompanying the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2010 (division F of Public Law 111-117).

Within the amount provided, funds may be used to address urgent renovation requirements for the Blair House, following consultation with the Committees on Appropriations.

The bill does not include the budget request for the Foreign Affairs Security Training Center. The Secretary of State is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations not later than 60 days after selection of the location site for the Center including the estimated completion cost of the project; prioritization, cost, timeline, and description of the phases; and a cost-benefit analysis comparing the 10-year costs for the training from leased facilities with the 10-year costs for training at the Center, including the cost of constructing the new facility.

The bill provides $2,000,000 for training, equipment and other support for the Bureau for Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor (DRL) and at United States missions to conduct vetting of units and individuals of foreign security forces, consistent with section 620M of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended by this Act. The Committees on Appropriations direct the Department of State to ensure that Human Rights Officers at United States missions shall be individuals with appropriate specialized training and experience to effectively carry out the responsibilities of the position, and that DRL be consulted on such appointments.

The bill includes the budget request for cyber-security. In addition, the Secretary of State is directed, in coordination with the USAID Administrator, to consult with the Committees on Appropriations not later than 60 days after enactment of this Act on the cost-benefit and performance implications of further consolidation of the information technology platforms of the two agencies at the country level.

The Secretary of State should expand support of the Special Coordinator for Tibetan Issues and fill existing staff positions to enable the Special Coordinator to carry out the broad responsibilities detailed in section 621(d) of Public Law 107-228, as well as for convening coordinating meetings for appropriate United States Government agencies, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), and representatives of the Tibetan leadership.

Section 7034(u) directs the Secretary of State to conduct a pilot program to recruit, hire, and train up to 25 mid-career professionals for the Foreign Service to help address the projected future shortfall of mid-career Foreign Service Officers, which shall be carried out after consultation with the Committees on Appropriations.

The bill provides $1,760,900,000 to support the transition from a military to civilian United States presence in Iraq, including $25,000,000 of the $50,000,000 that was requested by the Department of State for transfer from the International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement (INCLE) account. The bill does not include the requested transfer authority from INCLE to D&CP.

The Office of Public Diplomacy and Public Affairs is encouraged to continue funding for new media programming for targeted Arabic language television programs, as specified in Senate Report 111-237.

The Secretary is directed to submit a report on implementation and progress toward achieving each of the sustainability goals and targets applicable to all United States Government agencies, as specified in Executive Order 13514.

The efforts undertaken by the Office of Global Women's Issues to integrate gender considerations into all programs should continue with full consultation with, and support of, the Office of the Director of Foreign Assistance and USAID.

The Department of State is expected to work to increase consultations between the United Nations (UN) and New York City officials, to ensure local codes, regulations and security requirements are taken into account in any renovation or construction of facilities.

The Department of State shall follow the directive related to property inventory in Senate Report 111-237.

Not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the USAID Administrator, shall submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations on the number of private security contractors serving at United States missions in Iraq and Afghanistan, including: the cost and duties of such contractors; existing oversight mechanisms and the number of Department of State and USAID personnel, as appropriate, conducting such oversight; and a cost-benefit analysis of replacing such contractors with United States Government personnel.

CIVILIAN STABILIZATION INITIATIVE

The bill provides $35,000,000 for Civilian Stabilization Initiative (CSI) in this title. In addition, $15,000,000 is provided under the same heading in title II of the bill, for a total of $50,000,000 for the CSI in fiscal year 2011.

The Committees on Appropriations believe the CSI has potential as a mechanism for responding to international crises, but it remains a work in progress and has yet to demonstrate that it is effective. Given that the Quadrennial Diplomacy and Development Review (QDDR) has not been finalized and submitted to the Congress, the Secretary of State is directed to pursue a minimal stand up and implementation plan for CSI in fiscal year 2011 and support no more than a total of 170 Civilian Response Corps active personnel. The fiscal year 2011 plan to increase the number of stand-by corps from 1,030 to 2,000 is unsustainable. The Secretary of State is directed to consult with the Committees on Appropriations prior to implementing any reforms of CSI that may be proposed in the QDDR, including the establishment of a new office or bureau, which is subject to the limitations of section 7015(a) of this Act.

Not later than 6 months after enactment of this Act, and after a comprehensive review of the activities of the Office of the Coordinator for Reconstruction and Stabilization, the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations detailing a refined and more focused mission for this office, including clarification of its role in international crisis response; changes in staffing levels required to meet its mission; budget modifications, as appropriate; lessons learned since its inception; and the mechanisms that have been established to ensure coordination with other crisis response capabilities of the United States Government, particularly USAID and the Department of Defense. Until the report is submitted, the Secretary is directed to freeze hiring of new active and standby Civilian Response Corps personnel.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The bill provides $115,000,000 for Office of Inspector General (OIG) under this heading, of which $22,000,000 is for the Special Inspector General for Iraq Reconstruction (SIGIR) and $30,287,000 is for the Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR). In addition, the Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2010 (Public Law 111-212) included $7,200,000 for SIGAR for fiscal year 2011 and section 7071(a)(4)(B) of this bill provides $1,500,000 by transfer to both the SIGAR and the OIG for enhanced oversight of assistance for Afghanistan, making a total of $38,987,000 available for the SIGAR and $64,213,000 for the OIG in fiscal year 2011.

The Committees on Appropriations recognize the valuable presence of the OIG's Middle East Regional Office, and direct that it remain an independent office, report directly to the Inspector General, and continue conducting evaluations in the Middle East region. In addition, the activities undertaken by the OIG are distinct from SIGAR and SIGIR and should continue in Iraq and Afghanistan.

EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

The bill provides $654,200,000 for Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs, of which $13,500,000 is for expanded exchange and English language programs requested under the Economic Support Fund (ESF) heading for the Global Engagement initiative. The Department of State shall follow the directive in Senate Report 111-237 regarding proposed reallocations to Pakistan and other Muslim-majority countries.

Any proposal for the programmatic and geographic distribution of available resources (including unobligated balances and recoveries) shall be submitted through the normal reprogramming process not later than 60 days after enactment of this Act. The overall funding distribution shall conform to the programmatic guidance included in this statement. Such plan should detail, by country, the amount allocated for Global Engagement initiative activities.

The bill provides funding to continue each of the programs referenced in the first paragraph following the table under this heading in the explanatory statement accompanying the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2010 (division F of Public Law 111-117).

The bill provides $8,500,000 to continue the One-time Competitive Grants Program. This program shall be only for the actual exchange of people, should follow the criteria established under this heading in the explanatory statement accompanying the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2008 (division J of Public Law 110-161), and should benefit a population that is not being addressed through existing exchange programs.

The Department of State should consider proposals from the following organizations, in addition to those listed under the One-time International Exchange Grant Program heading in Senate Report 111-237, which shall be considered in full and open competition, and in accordance with all applicable rules and regulations: Santa Clara University; South Africa Washington Internship Program; Spelman College; Washington Ireland Program; and World Youth Peace Summit. The Department is also encouraged to continue funding the exchange programs listed in the fourth and fifth paragraphs under the heading in House Report 111-187, continue to support exchange programs and activities in the visual and performing arts, and consider funding for the OneWorld 2011 conference bringing together representatives from the United States and several Muslim-majority countries.

Funding is intended for training and equipping of Pakistan's security forces with a focus on the Army, the Special Services Group, Army Aviation, and the paramilitary Frontier Scouts and supports a long-term partnership with Pakistan to address issues of international terrorism, poverty and development. The Committees on Appropriations are concerned with reports that Pakistani security forces have denied access to humanitarian organizations to internally displaced persons (IDPs) and other vulnerable populations and detainees. Accordingly, the bill includes explicit authority to support training in civil-military humanitarian assistance. The Committees on Appropriations direct that section 620M of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended by this Act, shall be applied to assistance for Pakistan in this Act to ensure that it is not misused and that individuals responsible for abuses are appropriately punished.

The Department of the Treasury is directed to consult with the Committees on Appropriations on the allocation of funds between the Pilot Program for Climate Resilience, the Forest Investment Program and the Program for Scaling-Up Renewable Energy in Low-Income Countries prior to the obligation of funds. Sec. 7080. Transparency, Accountability and Anti-Kleptocracy.

The Department of the Treasury is directed to continue to provide the report to the Committees on Appropriations related to the International Monetary Fund's (IMF) New Arrangements to Borrow as outlined in section 7090(d) of the Department of State, Foreign Operations and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2010 (Public Law 111–117).

The Secretary of the Treasury is directed to provide a report to the Committees on Appropriations within 30 days after the Board of Executive Directors of the IMF approves a loan for a country where the amount of the net public debt of the country exceeds 60 percent of the gross domestic product and the country is not eligible for assistance from the International Development Association, outlining the likelihood that the loan will be repaid. The report should also describe the borrowing country's current debt status, including to the extent possible, its maturity structure, whether it has fixed or floating rates, whether it is indexed, and by whom it is held; the borrowing country's external and internal vulnerabilities that could potentially affect its ability to repay; and the borrowing country's debt management strategy.

The bill limits assistance to the central government of countries that do not fully disclose their national budget and government contracts and licenses for natural resource exploitation. If the Secretary of State waives this requirement, the Department of State is required to provide a report to the Committees on Appropriations that includes current data on the country's budget transparency; identifies any steps taken by such government to publicly disclose its national budget which are additional to those which were undertaken in previous fiscal years; includes recommendations of short- and long-term steps that the government can take to improve budget transparency; and identifies benchmarks for measuring progress in countries that receive a waiver.

Sec. 7082. Buying Power Maintenance, International Organizations.

This provision establishes a Buying Power Maintenance account under the Contributions to International Organizations heading to enable the Department of State to offset adverse fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates related to United States assessed contributions to international organizations. While the Committees on Appropriations recognize the budgeting challenges related to exchange rate fluctuations, the Secretary of State is directed to continue to utilize funding that remains available after paying the annual assessed contributions to continue to synchronize contributions in the fiscal year in which they are due. The Secretary is also directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations by October 30, 2011, on the total amount transferred into the Buying Power Maintenance account in fiscal year 2011 and the sources of this funding.

Sec. 7088. Inspectors General Personnel.

The Inspectors General of the Department of State and USAID should not exercise the waiver authority in this section for annuitants who have been retired for seven years or more, except in exceptional circumstances.

DISCLOSURE OF EARMARKS AND CONGRESSIONALLY DIRECTED SPENDING ITEMS

Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives and rule XLIV of the Standing Rules of the Senate, neither this division nor its accompanying explanatory statement contains any congressional earmarks, congressionally directed spending items, limited tax benefits or limited tariff benefits as defined in the applicable House or Senate rules.

The findings of this review are to be reported to the Committees on Appropriations by no later than April 1, 2011. The report should identify a range of at least three cost-effective options—basic, moderate, and comprehensive—and should describe the pros and cons of each of the options, as well as the time, funding, and other resources necessitated by each option.

Travel budget.—The bill funds the FHWA's travel expenses at $9,272,000, which is $1,000,000 below the budget request.

PIPELINE AND HAZARDOUS MATERIALS SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONAL EXPENSES

(PIPELINE SAFETY FUND)

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The bill provides $23,383,000 for the necessary operational expenses of the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA), of which $639,000 is to be derived from the Pipeline Safety Fund. The bill also requires that of the available funds, $1,000,000 shall be transferred to Pipeline Safety to fund pipeline safety information grants to communities.

Pipeline integrity management.—During the past year, there have been multiple incidents—such as the crude oil pipeline failure in Salt Lake City, UT, in June; the oil spill near Marshall, MI, in July; and the crude oil pipeline failure in Romeville, IL, in September—that have served as stark reminders of the importance of maintaining the safety of our nation's pipeline system that is essential to delivering vital energy products to U.S. households and businesses. In-line pipeline pigging devices, when appropriately deployed, are widely regarded to be the most reliable and cost-effective means of assessing the integrity of pipeline infrastructure. However, not all portions of this energy delivery system are capable of being “pigged”, that is, assessed using instrumented in-line inspection (ILI) devices. Roughly 13,000 miles of natural gas transmission pipelines in high consequence areas, such as those involved in the San Bruno incident, are unpiggable and thereby unable to be inspected by ILI devices under the integrity management program. These lines are currently assessed either using pressure testing techniques or a range of direct assessment methodologies. The bill includes $1,000,000 for PHMSA to advance research to ensure that more effective integrity assessment technology, at least as effective as pigging, is made available to better assess pipeline integrity risks.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS SAFETY

The bill provides $49,434,000 to continue PHMSA's hazardous materials safety functions, of which $6,497,000 shall be available until September 30, 2013. The bill also directs PHMSA to include a proposal to establish a reasonable user fee with its fiscal year 2012 budget to assist in covering a portion of the cost of expenses incurred to process applications and ensure compliance with the terms of special permits and approvals issued under 49 U.S.C. 5117. Within the funds provided, $4,210,000 is for 44 new positions to enable PHMSA to improve its oversight, management, and processing of special permits and approvals and $4,790,000 is for improvements to the PHMSA's data management and information technology modernization effort and is available until September 30, 2013.

PIPELINE SAFETY

(PIPELINE SAFETY FUND)

(OIL SPILL LIABILITY TRUST FUND)

The bill provides a total of $111,111,000 for the office of pipeline safety. Of this amount, $18,905,000 shall be derived from the Oil Spill Liability Trust Fund and shall be available until September 30, 2013. The remaining $92,206,000 shall be derived from the Pipeline Safety Fund, of which $51,206,000 shall remain available until September 30, 2013. The bill also directs that no less than $1,053,000 of the funds provided shall be used for the state one-call grant program.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The bill provides $30,874,000 for salaries and expenses of the surface transportation board. The bill permits the collection of up to $1,250,000 in user fees to be credited to this appropriation. The bill provides that the general fund appropriation be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis by the actual amount collected in user fees to result in a final appropriation from the general fund estimated at no more than $29,624,000. Within the total funding level, $625,000 is provided for upgrades to the Uniform Railroad Costing System.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Longstanding general provisions from fiscal year 2010 are continued unless otherwise noted below.

Section 188 prohibits funds from being used to make a grant unless the Secretary of Transportation notifies the House and the Senate Committees on Appropriations no less than three days in advance of any discretionary grant award, letter of intent, full funding grant agreement or any project competitively selected to receive a discretionary grant award totaling $1,000,000 or more, and directs the Secretary give concurrent notification for any "quick release" of funds from the Federal Highway Administration's emergency relief program. Three day notice is also required for programs that total in excess of $40,000,000.

Section 192 modifies a provision that caps the amount of fees that the Surface Transportation Board can charge/collect for rate or practice complaints.

Section 194 clarifies or extends funding for various projects that were included in previous appropriations Acts.

Section 195 clarifies funding for projects that were included in SAFETEA-LU and TEA-21.

Section 196 requires the Department of Transportation to continue a study related to the Missouri River.

Section 197 extends pilot programs related to truck weight in the States of Maine and Vermont.

TITLE II—DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT
MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

HUD is directed to provide quarterly updates on its efforts to improve the Department's hiring, performance appraisal, and succession planning processes, and the budgeting of S&E resources. These reports should include updates on the number of FTE projected for each office in the Department compared to last year's actual level and the authorized level for the current fiscal year. Additionally, these reports should track the obligation of funds provided for each office and specifically detail any transfer of funds between accounts.

Budget justifications.—HUD is directed to provide more detailed information on its salaries and expenses request for each office within the Department in its fiscal year 2012 budget request and all future budget requests. The budget request must include a detailed justification for the incremental funding increases, decreases and FTE fluctuations being requested by program, activity or program element. The budget request must also include an organizational chart for each operating area within the Department detailing the number of FTE per office and changes in these numbers for the upcoming fiscal year. Additionally, the budget request must include detailed information on non-personnel related expenses, including travel, by program office. This should include information on prior-year travel and travel planned for fiscal year 2012. For international travel the Department should include the location and purpose of any proposed trips.

The Department is reminded that its authority to reprogram funds between the programs, projects, and activities within each account without prior approval from the Committees on Appropriations is limited. In addition, HUD must provide one month prior notice to the Committees on Appropriations of any office, program or activity reorganizations.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

HONORING GEORGE P. SHULTZ

HON. NANCY PELOSI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. PELOSI. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 90th birthday of a great leader, a true public servant, and a proud resident of San Francisco: George Pratt Shultz.

Secretary Shultz has lived by the mantra he set forth during his decades of service: "You've got to dream a little bit if you're going to get somewhere." Throughout his life, he dreamed more than "a little bit"—and his dreams led him to the height of academia, government, and business.

His dreams led him to the Marine Corps during World War II. They led him to become a celebrated and decorated professor of economics at some of our most prestigious institutions of higher learning. And they certainly drove him to "get somewhere" in the public square: serving as an advisor to Presidents; as a Director of the Office of Management and Budget; as the Secretary of the Treasury, Labor, and State.

In the closing years of the Cold War, as our leading diplomat, Secretary Shultz was a powerful, passionate voice for American values around the world—negotiating when possible to advance the interests of the United States; standing firm when necessary to defend our country; striving for peace among nations and advocating on behalf of our strong moral leadership worldwide.

In recent years, Secretary Shultz brought his experience and wisdom to two critical challenges facing our country and our planet: climate change and nuclear non-proliferation.

He understood that global warming is a threat to our national security, our economy, and our environment. And in California, he joined the campaign to halt efforts to weaken environmental protections—and fought to strengthen our clean energy future.

Forever a statesman, he issued a clarion call to build a world free of nuclear weapons, recognizing that these instruments of war are no longer necessary in this day and age, and represent a threat to global security now and in the future.

Known for his dynamic partnerships over the years, Secretary Shultz has no greater partner than his wife, Charlotte Maillard Shultz. When Charlotte served as Chief of Protocol for the city and county of San Francisco, and for the state of California, Secretary Shultz supported her with his own diplomatic acumen. Today, their partnership, in both the public and private spheres, continues to enhance our city.

Secretary Shultz has always been, and will always remain for Paul and me, a patriot, a dedicated public servant, and a friend. An economist, a business leader, and a statesman: George Shultz followed his dreams. And on his 90th birthday, we honor his service.

HONORING RONALD G. YELENIK

HON. CHRIS VAN HOLLEN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. VAN HOLLEN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Ronald G. Yelenik, Assistant General Counsel in the Office of the General Counsel at the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). Mr. Yelenik is retiring after 35 years of distinguished service at the CPSC.

Mr. Yelenik began his career at the CPSC in 1975. Prior to joining the CPSC staff, he was a Law Professor at Antioch School of Law, a Director of East New York Legal Services, a staff attorney at Brownsville Legal Services, and a Peace Corps volunteer in Costa Rica.

Mr. Yelenik has held various legal positions at the CPSC, chiefly within the Office of Compliance and Field Operations, and most recently in the Division of Compliance within the Office of the General Counsel. He currently manages a staff of 12 attorneys, providing leadership in devising legal strategies to ensure that manufacturers, importers, distributors, and retailers of dangerously defective and hazardous products are held responsible for harm caused to consumers. Over the years, he has been an excellent mentor to staff attorneys and legal interns.

Over the course of his long and distinguished Federal career, Mr. Yelenik helped negotiate numerous major product recalls with such firms as Wal-Mart, Cosco, and Fisher-Price. The Fisher-Price recall involved ten million battery-powered Power Wheel ride-on cars that presented a fire hazard to children. This toy recall was one of the largest and most expensive recalls in CPSC's history.

Mr. Yelenik has also served as lead counsel in some of the largest monetary civil penalty cases in the CPSC's history for reporting violations under section 15(b) of the Consumer Product Safety Act. The cases include a $4 million civil penalty against the McDonald's Corporation in 1999; a $1.75 million penalty against Dorel USA (Cosco/Safety 1st) in 2001; and a $1.1 million penalty against Fisher-Price in 2001. In 2009, he negotiated a $2.3 million civil penalty against Mattel for multiple violations of the lead paint ban in children's products. The Mattel violations were one of the catalysts that led to the passage of the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008.

During his tenure at CPSC, Mr. Yelenik has played a major role in protecting the public from unreasonable risks of injury posed by consumer products. He has demonstrated inspiring leadership and has been a valued employee at the CPSC.

Madam Speaker, I am honored to thank Ronald G. Yelenik for his honorable service to our Nation and I wish him a rewarding retirement.

After serving for 15 years as an Environmental Compliance Analyst for the City of Arcata and 4 years on the McKinleyville Community Services District Board, she was elected to represent Humboldt County's 5th Supervisorial District in 2002.

Throughout her two terms, Jill has been a capable and enthusiastic voice for the citizens of Humboldt County. She has provided competent leadership on a variety of issues, including protection of our rich natural resources. She was appointed by the governor to sit on the Statewide Watershed Monitoring Advisory Committee and was the county representative for Klamath River dam removal negotiations. HONORING THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY FLOOD CONTROL ASSOCIATION

HON. ED WHITFIELD

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. WHITFIELD. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 75th anniversary of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association. This Association was instrumental in reforming the flood and navigation system along the Mississippi River after the 1927 flood, which was one of the greatest peace-time disasters our nation has seen. This disaster wrecked the levee system and devastated over 12 million acres and drove 600,000 people from their homes. Losses were estimated at $400 million.

A shining star in this disaster was the quick work of this Association by organizing a congressional tour at the height of the flood by special train and boats. This effort paved the way for legislation developing the Mississippi River and Tributaries Project to build a levee system to tame the Mississippi River's forces. Today, this levee system still protects hundreds of thousands of families from flooding and facilitates transportation in our inland water ways system.

The Association still lives on under the great leadership of Mr. George Grugett. Mr. Grugett's career is an example for all of us to follow. He has served as the Executive Vice President of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association since 1980. During his service to this Association, he has successfully brought together Members of Congress, senior officials within the Army Corps of Engineers, and levee boards along the Mississippi River in order to promote and develop the flood and navigation system that is so important to our economy.

I can confidently say that with Mr. Grugett's leadership we have made numerous strides in the areas of flood control and water navigation. I ask the entire House to join with me to commend Mr. Grugett for his leadership and dedication to this Association as it marks its 75th anniversary.

IN HONOR OF PAT LOE

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. FARR. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Pat Loe, on the occasion of her retirement from the San Benito County Board of Supervisors. It has been a pleasure working with Pat on various projects and she will be missed by many.

Pat is a lifelong resident of San Benito County. Prior to her service on the San Benito County Board of Supervisors, she worked for Tiffany Motor Company for 34 years.

Pat first began her career in politics when she was appointed to the San Benito County Planning Commission where she served for 10 years. Her leadership on the Commission prepared her to run for a seat on the Hollister City Council. Pat served on the council for four years and made some momentous advancements for women. She became the first woman to break the glass ceiling and serve as Mayor for the City of Hollister allowing many other councilwomen to follow suit.

On March 5, 2002, Pat was elected to the San Benito County Board of Supervisors, District 3. The County district seat is unique, wholly within an urban area, geographically in central Hollister, defined by its established homes, and its population is dominated by longtime Hollister residents. Pat was reelected on June 6, 2006 to serve a second term of four years. She was Chair of the San Benito County Supervisors in 2006 and also served as Vice-Chair in 2010.

Pat served on various committees including the Council of Governments, Local Agency Formation Commission, Veterans Park Commission, Children and Families First Commission, Community Action Board, Intergovernmental Committee, Juvenile Justice Commission, Local Task Force, Behavioral Health Board, Monterey Bay Unified Air Pollution Control, Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments, City Revolving Loan Fund Committee, Gang Prevention Task Force, and National Association of Counties. She also served on various sub-committees: Community Development Block Grants, Ethics, Library Vision Committee, Governance, Redevelopment, Agency Revolving Loan Fund Board, and New Courthouse Project. She also served on other community organizations such as the Homeless Task Force, Emmaus House and Relay for Life.

Madam Speaker, on behalf of the House of Representatives, I would like to extend our Nation's deepest gratitude to Pat Loe for all of her years of service. I wish her well and hope she enjoys the time with her family and friends. This is not a goodbye for I know that Pat will continue to serve the County of San Benito on other capacities. Pat clearly loves the County of San Benito, and she's changed it, for the better—with her unique brand of gentle persistence.

A SALUTE TO THE HONORABLE
RICHARD L. HUGHES FOR HIS 15 YEARS OF PRINCIPLED SERVICE
ON THE 67TH DISTRICT COURT

HON. GARY C. PETERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. PETERS. Madam Speaker, I rise today and ask my colleagues to join me as I salute Richard L. Hughes upon his retirement from the 67th District Court in Burton, Michigan, after 15 years of proud and principled service.

Judge Hughes was first appointed to the bench in 1994. He ran successfully for the balance of the judicial term in 1996, and was twice re-elected to the position in 1998 and 2004. But his tenure on the bench was merely a capstone to his many years of formal public service. Dick's story is truly the archetype of "local boy makes good." Not many years after graduating from the Detroit College of Law in 1968 and practicing law in Detroit for a time, Dick and his wife Suzanne moved their young family to their long-time homestead in Otisville, just miles from where he was raised.

Dick practiced law in the community for 26 years before his appointment. During that time and continuing today, Dick was active in his church and as a Rotarian in the Davison and Burton clubs.

In formal service to the community, Dick truly carried on a long family tradition of holding public office. He was urged by community members to serve on the Lakeville School Board when the district was in the midst of challenging financial times. He served nearly a decade, and 6 years as president. True to his nature and sense of practicality, Dick successfully reduced the board member's compensation to just $1 a year during the lean years.

When Dick was appointed to the 67th District Court bench in 1994, he was presented the gavel of our great-great grandfather Julian Peters who was Justice of the Peace for 24 years in Rochester, Michigan. We are all grateful that Dick has carried on our family's tradition of proud public service in the judicial branch of government.

I know that Dick's thoughtful expertise on the bench will be missed. The Burton community is fortunate, however, that Dick's son-in-law Mark Latchana will carry on Dick's tradition of proud and principled service after Mark's successful election to the seat this past November.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join my salute to my cousin, Dick Hughes, for his commitment to excellence on the bench, his dedication to community and family, and his tireless service to the public. I wish Dick, his wife Suzanne, their children Beth and Michael and their families the very best enjoyment of Dick's formal retirement. I have no doubt that although he is shedding the black robe, his service to the community will continue in earnest for many years to come.

"THIS LAND IS MY LAND"—CSM
ROCKY SHAPLA, UNITED STATES
ARMY

HON. GEOFF DAVIS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, today I rise to honor a great American story, and patriot, Command Sergeant Major Rocky Shapla of Murray, Kentucky. CSM Shapla has lived the American Dream, arriving in the U.S. from Yugoslavia at the age of 15. With nothing but the shirt on his back he would rise up to become a CSM in the United States Army . . . because of his leadership and drive. He has fought in wars, just like all of our forefathers who wear the name Patriot . . . because of their service to country. With over 41 years in the service, his resume is an outstanding one to say the least. Rocky has been recovering from injuries sustained in Iraq. He loves the Army, and he loves this country. As he put it, "only in America can you come here without nothing, rise up to become a CSM in the United States Army, and have dinner at the White House with the President. Its time for this Kentucky Thoroughbred to come back home to that blue grass that he so loves, Kentucky and his family. I ask that this tribute penned in his honor by Albert Caswell be placed in the RECORD.

THIS LAND IS MY LAND

This land is my land . . .
This land is our land . . .
All in this Country Tis of Thee so grand . . .
Are but born, such fine son's . . . such son's of liberty who stand . . .
But, some sons come from far across the seas
To but live the American Dream . . .
So many of our future great Americans, new daughters and sons . . .
Who but new lives have begun . . .
All in their fine pursuit, of most precious freedom . . .
Who raise their hands and take that oath
With tears in eyes, as all in their hearts as this means the most . . .
The ones who do it the right way . . .
But, with their own fine lives, are but willing to pay!
As they assimilate, into this great melting pot . . . as its for them we pray . . .
The ones who will so proudly, wear that uniform . . .
As in their fine hearts, their love of country beats ever on . . .
Willing to face death, giving up all until none lies left . . . as they march on . . .
Living the American Dream, raising a fine family . . . daring to dream!
Rising up through the ranks, into a Command Sergeant Major . . .
As to him, Rocky we give such thanks . . .
From one war to the next, Rocky's fine life for us has so been pledged!

Melding into, one of America's most finest sons!

Yes land is your land, is our land . . .
Training and leading, all of our most courageous daughters and sons . . .

Succeeding, for Rocky was a man on a mission!

Coming to this new world, with but his great dreams and visions unfurled . . .

A man who fell in love three times . . .

With his Country, his Wife . . . and the United States Army . . . double time!

And his children, and Kentucky make five!

To live a great life, all in that old Kentucky Clay . . .

This great land of Lincoln, Ali, and most beloved Henry his dreams were made . . .

Doing it, doing the Right Way . . . the American Way . . .

Only in America, can one travel across the seas, and a Command Sergeant Major rise up to be . . .

And raise a fine family, and live the dream . . . a shake the President's hand it seems!

For hearts of courage full, and fine patriots . . . who live by that golden rule . . .

Coming across the shores, with hearts of dreams so very full . . .

This Land is my land, this land is our Land . . . may live the American Dream so true!

IN HONOR OF TONY CAMPOS

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. FARR. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a model public servant who dedicated his life to the betterment of the Pajaro Valley on California's central coast. Tony Campos, a native of the Pajaro Valley, has served his community as a city councilmember, a mayor, and a county supervisor since 1987. His leadership and dedication has resulted in many successes. Moreover, his loyalty and compassion made him a dear friend to me and many others.

Tony was born and raised in the Pajaro Valley, graduated from Watsonville High School and attended Cabrillo College. He spent fourteen years working in the sprawling agricultural fields with his father. From this strong foundation, Tony sought to continue his success by becoming a small-business owner. However, the biggest success in his life came in March of 1977 when he married Becky Tegenkamp.

In 1987, Tony was elected as to the Watsonville City Council. He was the first Latino elected to the City Council since the city's incorporation in 1868. Two years later, he demonstrated exemplary leadership in the Loma Prieta earthquake and its aftermath. As Mayor of Watsonville, Tony led the city through one of its worst natural disasters when the Pajaro River overflowed, flooding large portions of the Pajaro Valley.

In June of 1998, Tony became the first Latino elected to the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors since 1853. For twelve years, he fought tirelessly to improve social and health services in the county. Moreover, as Chairman of the Board, Tony has brought further attention to the needs of seniors, Latinos, young people, and farm workers. Recently, Tony accomplished his goal of equal access to the courts and other government services by playing an instrumental role in the construction of the new Watsonville Civic Center.

Madam Speaker, it is my honor to recognize this community leader and to applaud him for his tenure on the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors. As Tony begins the next chapter of his life, he will continue to be a strong advocate for the Pajaro Valley and the Central Coast. I wish my friend and his lovely wife all the best in their future endeavors.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. NIKI TSONGAS

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. TSONGAS. Madam Speaker, I was unavoidably detained and was unable to cast a vote on the following rollcall votes: Rollcall 581 to designate the Lance Corporal Alexander Scott Arredondo, United States Marine Corps Post Office Building; rollcall 582 to support the goals and ideals of a National Mesothelioma Awareness Day; rollcall 584 for the Claims Resolution Act 2010; rollcall 585 to honor and recognize the exemplary service of the 60th Air Mobility Wing, the 349th Air Mobility Wing, the 15th Expeditionary Mobility Task Force, and the 615th Contingency Response Wing civilians and families serving at Travis Air Force Base, California; rollcall 586 to honor and recognize the National Guard on the occasion of its 374th anniversary.

I am a cosponsor of the Lance Corporal Arredondo Post Office legislation and the resolution honoring the National Guard, and I have consistently voted to recognize and honor the service and sacrifices of our nation's servicemembers and military families. I commend the National Guard, which has served our nation with distinction and honor for 374 years and deserves the greatest respect and gratitude.

RECOGNITION OF HUGH DORRIAN FOR HIS SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

HON. MARY JO KILROY

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. KILROY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Hugh Dorrian as he is honored by the Greater Columbus Irish Cultural Foundation. He has been a man of honor in politics, something rare in these times. I cannot remember him ever running a negative ad or engaging in a personal attack on an opponent. He is recognized by the citizens of Columbus as someone who serves with great integrity and in whom they have placed their trust and confidence to safeguard public resources. In office, he does not play partisan politics. He may not give other officials the answer that they want to hear, but he can be counted on to give what he sees as the correct answer about public funds, the budget and spending.

Hugh Dorrian is a man of faith, a devoted husband and father, and his name is well-known in the Irish American community.

As Columbus City Auditor for over four decades, Hugh has seen many changes yet remained steadfast in his commitment to managing the City's fiscal resources. He was awarded the Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association for 30 consecutive years.

Hugh has received numerous accolades throughout the years including the St. Charles Preparatory School Borromeo Medal for Distinguished Alumni Achievement, the Ohio State University School of Public Policy Outstanding Local Public Service Award, the City of Columbus Equal Business Opportunity Department Minority/Female Business Advocate Award, the Ohio Government Finance Officers' Association Ethics in Government Award and Lifetime Achievement Award. He served on the Police and Firemen's Disability and Pension Fund of Ohio Board of Trustees, was a member of the Investment Committee from 1973 to 1992 and sat on the advisory board at St. Charles Preparatory High School for several years.

A Certified Public Accountant and alumnus of the Ohio State University, Hugh lectured at the Graduate School of Public Policy and Management teaching Governmental and Non-profit Accounting from 1984 to 2006 while simultaneously holding elective office. HON. STEVE COHEN

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

COMMENDING YUVRAJ PURI FOR EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

HON. ENI F.H. FALEOMAVAEGA

OF AMERICAN SAMOA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commend Yuvraj Puri for his initiative in crafting a bill to reduce the amount of annual Medicare fraud and prevent future Medicare fraud. Yuvraj is 13 years old and attends Cooper Middle School in McLean, Virginia, where he is currently in the 8th grade.

As a second-generation Indian-American and in tribute to his Asian culture which teaches children to respect and take care of their elders, it has been Yuvraj's dream to work with senior citizens. In fact, for the past 3 months, Yuvraj has been volunteering at the Herndon Senior Center for 4 hours every week.

At the center, his primary duties are to update the database, set up bingo, clean up and lock down the center, type up the lunch menu, decorate, write the program board, and clean out the closet for recyclables.

This experience has instilled in Yuvraj a desire to take his work further and so he chose to research Medicare fraud and present a paper and draft a bill as part of an assignment at school. Although the school had each student partner with another, I am impressed that Yuvraj went beyond what he was required to do and, on his own initiative, sought to visit the U.S. Congress to see how bills are introduced, managed and eventually passed into law.

As an Asian-Pacific American, Yuvraj also requested a meeting with Members of the Executive Board of the Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus (CAPAC), including the Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary who serves as Chair of the CAPAC's Healthcare Task Force. Since its inception in 1994, CAPAC has continued its commitment to promote and secure equal rights for not only Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPI), but all Americans.

Through his research, Yuvraj learned that CAPAC fights to eliminate health care disparities and works to ensure that Asian Americans and Pacific Islander (AAPI) communities are not left out of policy decisions. Recognizing CAPAC's importance and knowing that CAPAC can influence the passage or defeat of a bill, Yuvraj referenced CAPAC in his presentation and sought a meeting with us to present his bill, especially since he is a member of the AAPI community.

Today, it was our honor to personally meet Yuvraj and accept his bill, and I thank Congressman MIKE HONDA, Chairman of CAPAC, and also Congresswoman MADELEINE BORDALLO, Chair of CAPAC's Healthcare Taskforce, for joining with me to commend Yuvraj for his initiative.

As Members of CAPAC's Executive Board, we join together in wishing Yuvraj much success in his pursuit to attend the Thomas Jefferson School for Science and Technology (TJSST) in Alexandria, Virginia. We believe Yuvraj is a rare student who has the capability to become a leader of the 21st century and it is clear that his intellectual curiosity will serve him well on his road to study medicine at Princeton as he seeks to do all he can do to serve the elderly to the best of his ability.

Again, I commend Yuvraj for his self-motivation and aspirations, and I extend to him and his family my very best regards.

"TRUTH EMERGING IN KENT STATE COLD CASE HOMICIDE" BY LAUREL KRAUSE

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, this prose by Laurel Krause is entered into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD at the request of Laurel Krause, whose sister Allison Krause was shot and killed as she protested the Vietnam War at Kent State University on May 4, 1970. Laurel is the co-founder and director of the Kent State Truth Tribunal.

TRUTH EMERGING IN THE KENT STATE COLD CASE
HOMICIDE

The government crossed the line in the killing of four young people in the killing of our Allison as she rallied against the war on May 4, 1970. A civil rights battle on U.S. soil in our times. Kent State is personal for us yet important for all.

Arthur Krause knew the importance of the Kent State Tape. My dad knew it held the truth of what happened at Kent State even though back in 1970 and until just recently truth from the Kent State Tape was locked up.

in a jumbled maze of analog antiquity. Dad passed away over 20 years ago. He knew the truth in the Kent State Tape. A patriot and WWII soldier. Dad believed the American dream. When Allison his firstborn a freshman at Kent State University was protesting the Vietnam war on her campus.

He never anticipated the American apocalypse our family would endure at the hands of our government. Like Sandy, Jeff and Bill our Allison was shot dead at Kent State. Homicide by national guard gunfire. Dad knew they got away with murder at Kent State University just after noon on May 4, 1970.

Over the next ten years Dad sought truth and justice at Kent State demanding to know what happened to our Allison.

Taking it to the courts yielded only road blocks, cover-ups and threats. Every effort to uncover and face the deadly inhumanity of Kent State was completely thwarted.

A series of seamless stonewalls. Never examining the wrongs of Kent State. No accountability for the killings of Kent State.

Not one person or group ever held responsible. Not one apology uttered. Yet governmental claims were consistent: There was no order to fire. The Guard reacted to sniper fire. The Guard felt under attack from the students.

A government-fabricated pack of lies that has now transformed into the recorded history of the killings of Kent State. That is . . . until 2010 and the examination of the Kent State Tape 40 years after the shootings. The Kent State Tape that Dad held so dear that was evidence in his court cases finally examined using tools of state-of-the-art audio technology unlocking the true record of what occurred at Kent State on May 4, 1970.

Sounds expertly analyzed by world-class forensic scientist Stuart Allen commissioned by the Cleveland Plain Dealer to explore the Kent State Tape for the very first time.

Whether copy or original is moot. Truth is recorded in the Kent State Tape. A tape does not remember, forget or change its story.

The Kent State Tape does not lie. At the Kent State Truth Tribunal in NYC October 2010 with Stuart Allen examining Hearing and unraveling the labyrinth of deadly sounds including shots and national guard commands and a violent altercation with FBI-paid Terry Norman all contributing to the shootings at Kent State 1970.

The government denied orders to fire were isolated, heard and verified orders of Guard, Prepare to Fire orders of Alright, Guard, Fiii- with the last word of the deadly order stepped on.

by a barrage of 67 shots over 13 seconds. At unarmed students changing classes at noon.

At unarmed students more than a football field away.

At unarmed students rallying against the Vietnam War.

At unarmed students rallying against the military occupation of their campus in a battle where American dissent was also slaughtered.

HONORING TSgt WILLIAM
TIMOTHY "TIM" WYMORE

HON. W. TODD AKIN

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. AKIN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor TSgt William Timothy "Tim" Wymore, an 18 year veteran of the Missouri Air National Guard and of Operation Enduring Freedom. I have the honor to count Tim Wymore as a constituent.

During a "Hometown Heroes Salute" on 4 December the Missouri Air National Guard paid special tribute to TSgt Wymore for his service. I am grateful to the Guard for recognizing Tim's contribution to the security of our country.

In 2004, Tim deployed to Balad, Iraq, one of our largest air bases, with Missouri's 131st Bomb Wing. He was one of only five members of his unit sent to Iraq. While everyone who goes to war is affected, some return more affected than others. Tim Wymore is one such person.

Tim is one of thousands of our service members exposed to hazardous materials while operating in and around the burn pits in Iraq. Since returning, Tim's health has deteriorated to the point where he is unable to work. He's been in and out of the hospital and today cannot stand on his own and relies on oxygen to breathe.

Through it all, Shanna, his wife of 25 years has not only stood by his side, but fought to get the benefits and care he deserves from a system sometimes indifferent to his suffering. I got to know Tim and Shanna after they contacted my office seeking assistance with the Veterans Administration.

Madam Speaker, I stand here today to honor TSgt Tim Wymore, so I won't take further time to elaborate on how the system has failed to support this warfighter. I will only say that I will continue to work to see that the Veterans Administration is held accountable for how it serves our citizen soldiers.

Despite his suffering, Tim Wymore remains a patriotic citizen and father. In fact, rather than try and dissuade his son from serving in uniform, he supports his youngest son Cody's decision to follow in his footsteps and enlist in the United States Air Force.

I pray God bless the Wymore family and the United States of America.

"STEVEN SOLARZ: A GREAT MEMBER OF CONGRESS"

HON. BARNEY FRANK

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Madam Speaker, earlier this month, America lost one of the outstanding people to have served in this House. Steven Solarz was a Member of the House from 1974-1992, and no Member either in my personal experience or in my reading of history was a more effective and constructive leader in foreign policy as a Member of the House. Too often, Members of Congress, especially the House Members, distinguish themselves in the foreign policy field mostly in a negative way. Sometimes that is a very good thing because these Members are preventing things from happening that shouldn't happen. But there is a tendency to demagogue and to play to public dislike of foreigners. Steven Solarz was a role model for those who think that Members of the House have a constructive role to play in foreign policy. Without ever having risen to the chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs Committee, he made himself an extremely significant positive force in foreign policy, for human rights, and for constructive American relations with a wide range of nations. He understood the importance of our being strong when we had to be, and of our being open and generous when that was called for.

Madam Speaker, Steve Solarz was a personal friend of mine for many years, and I suppose that people could claim that I have exaggerated the greatness of the role he played because of that. So I was particularly pleased to see that one of the best students of Congress, Norman Ornstein, expressed eloquently and cogently the importance of the role Steve Solarz played in foreign policy as a House Member, in his December 8, 2010 article in Roll Call.

Madam Speaker, as an example that I believe all Members ought to aspire to, I ask that Norman Ornstein's deserved tribute to Steven Solarz's foreign policy leadership be printed here.

[From Roll Call, Dec. 8, 2010]

REP. SOLARZ WAS A LEADER WORTH
REMEMBERING

(By Norman Ornstein)

This is the season for farewell addresses from many lawmakers leaving at the end of the 111th Congress. Some speeches, such as those of Sen. Ted Kaufman (D-Del.) a few weeks back and of Sen. Chris Dodd (D-Conn.) last week, are particularly poignant, reflecting decades of dedication to the Senate and reverence for its traditions (if a touch too much deference to its existing rules and too little concern for how the contemporary abuse of the norms have distorted those traditions and call for modest but meaningful tweaks in those rules).

But their eloquence underscores how elections, while bringing necessary change for a democracy and reaffirming popular will, also result in the departure of some of the most solid citizens of the Congressional village. The loss of expertise, insight and institutional memory—not to mention fundamental decency—that comes with the departures, some voluntary and some not, of people such as Reps. John Spratt (D-S.C.), James Oberstar (D-Minn.) and Ike Skelton (D-Mo.) and Sens. George Voinovich (R-Ohio), Judd Gregg (R-N.H.) and Evan Bayh (D-Ind.), among others, is painful to those of us who care about Congress.

Then there are other losses. Former Rep. Steve Solarz (D-N.Y.) died last week at age 70, after a four-year battle with esophageal cancer. While he received prominent obituaries in the Washington Post and the New York Times, chances are many new and not-so-new Members of Congress who weren't around in the 18 years that Solarz served in the House, from 1975 to 1993, were either unaware of his passing or paid little attention to it. As a start, they should go back and read those obituaries, and then make a note to read his wonderful book, "Journeys to War and Peace: A Congressional Memoir," which will be published next year.

I wrote a foreword for the book, in which I noted my striking experiences on visits to the Philippines and Cambodia; in each case, when I met with academics, high government officials and others, I was asked frequently, "Do you know Steve Solarz?" In the Philippines, actually, the question was, "Do you know Steve Solarz personally?" He helped save my country from dictatorship." In Cambodia, it was whether I knew the Steve Solarz who was instrumental in saving Cambodia from the murderous excesses of the Khmer Rouge.

Solarz was not a secretary of State, a Senator or even the chairman of a powerful committee. He was a rank-and-file House Member who, by the force of his personality, a remarkable work ethic, a political savvy, an articulateness unmatched in contemporary politics, a commitment to democracy and human rights mixed with hard-headed sense of reality, and a willingness to work across the aisle to accomplish mutual goals, had a greater effect on the world than most secretaries of State, Senators and chairmen of powerful panels.

Solarz traveled the world, but not with Congressional delegations; he went alone. American embassy personnel dreaded his arrival; they would not have to arrange trips to the souk or the rug store, but would instead have to keep up with 18-hour days choreographed by Solarz to include meetings with the foreign minister, the defense minister, the intelligence chief and the key opposition figures.

When he scoped out situations and found corruption, abuse of power and worse, he used his skills and connections to relentlessly push for change. Back in Washington, D.C., his office became a home away from home for dissident leaders from around the world who got short shrift elsewhere. As a consequence, to pick one example, Solarz probably had better ties with the Kurdish leaders in Iraq than any other American.

Solarz's shining moment, perhaps, was on the House floor during the stirring debate over whether to authorize the use of force against Saddam Hussein after his invasion of Kuwait, i.e., the first Gulf War. There were dozens of emotional and wrenching speeches as Members struggled with the decision about whether to send young Americans to war, and perhaps to death; at the time, there were predictions of potential mayhem in the desert. When liberal Democrat Solarz stood up and spoke in favor of the authorization, it was truly a riveting moment. Everyone stopped to listen. He was powerful and eloquent, and he did as much as anyone to shape the outcome. There are few examples in which an individual lawmaker has any effect, much less one that is consequential, from a speech on the House floor.

It is hard to imagine another Solarz emerging in a political system that is now so polarized that a powerful opinion leader and statesmen like Sen. Dick Lugar (R-Ind.) cannot persuade his own party colleagues to vote for the new Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty. It is even harder to imagine a House Member throwing himself into peripatetic travel to every corner of the globe and trying to shape events and outcomes in the world without being shredded by cable news and anonymously funded campaign attack machines, or finding ways to build unlikely and persuasive partnerships across every partisan and ideological divide. But it is not impossible to imagine some new Members of both parties persuaded by Solarz's example to take some trips abroad despite the predictable criticism of junkets and the equally predictable partisan flak, and to think about core values of freedom, human rights and America's national interest as transcending petty partisan interests. At least I like to think is not impossible.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT OF LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. RICHARDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Fire Department of Long Beach, California. Specifically, I would like to thank and honor firefighter paramedics Chuck Hakopian, Mark Miller, Joyce Vanderweide, and Carston Sorensen for their heroic response to an apartment fire in Long Beach last week. These firefighters risked their lives to save a young boy who was trapped in his bedroom as flames engulfed his family's apartment. Thanks to their bravery, 2-year-old Justin Aruomah is in stable condition and continues to improve daily.

We must never take for granted the men and women of the local fire departments across the country who courageously respond to emergencies on a daily basis, risking their lives to save those of others. Their willingness to face danger in order to serve and protect their communities affords us a peace of mind that too often goes underappreciated.

Madam Speaker, I am humbled by the firefighters of the Long Beach Fire Department, whose bravery and devotion to their community is nothing short of heroic. The events of last Monday, December 6, 2010 is only one of many moving examples of this heroism.

Just after midnight, firefighter Chuck Hakopian and Carston Sorensen rushed into a burning apartment. They ran up the apartment's stairs through billowing clouds of smoke and into a bedroom that was engulfed in flames. The floor in the room was so weakened by the fire that Mr. Hakopian fell through the floor to his elbows. After pulling himself up and out of the collapsed floor, he rushed into a second bedroom, where he found 2-year-old Justin Aruomah lying face down on the floor. As Mr. Sorensen battled the flames with a fire hose, Mr. Hakopian covered the boy's head and body and rushed him out of the burning house to awaiting paramedics Mark Miller and Joyce Vanderweide. Justin was unconscious, but alive. As he was rushed to the hospital, Ms. Vanderweide and Mr. Miller were able to revive his breathing. Justin was soon placed in critical condition. Thanks to these brave men and women he is alive and recuperating.

I do not share this story of bravery and sacrifice because it is any way uncommon. The firefighters of the Long Beach Fire Department, along with departments across the country, risk their lives every day to protect people who they have never met. These acts of selflessness are typically accompanied by little fanfare. These brave men and women simply return to work the next day to await the call of duty.

I share this story because it is a powerful reminder of the need to support the men and women who stand ready to serve our communities, day and night. We have an obligation to provide our firefighters—along with our police officers, paramedics, and all other emergency responders—with the resources that they need to do their job successfully and as safely as possible. This means providing enough funding for them to afford all the necessary training and cutting-edge equipment. This is the right thing to do for the men and women who dedicate their lives to serving our communities.

As the Chair of the Homeland Security Committee's Subcommittee on Emergency Communication, Preparedness, and Response, supporting our emergency responders is one of my top priorities in Congress. Emergency situations cannot always be prevented, but their effects can be mitigated by ensuring that emergency responders have all the resources that they need to protect us.

Again, I thank Chuck Hakopian, Mark Miller, Joyce Vanderweide, and Carston Sorensen of the Long Beach Fire Department and the emergency responders all across the country who risk their lives on behalf of their communities. Your courage and selflessness do not go unnoticed.

IN HONOR OF ALEX MACHASKEE

a large expansion program, in which the Plain Dealer improved the quality of its service by investing in a new facility, a redesigned distribution system, and expanded coverage of local news. He retired in 2006, capping a 46-year career at the Plain Dealer.

As a result of his prolific career in journalism, Mr. Machaskee has been recognized by many local organizations and institutions. He has received honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from Cleveland State University, the University of Akron, and Heidelberg College. Some of his honors and awards include the Ellis Island Medal of Honor from the National Ethnic Coalition Organization, the Whitney M. Young Humanitarian Award from the Urban League of Cleveland, and the Nonprofit Board Executive of the Year Award from the World Trade Center Cleveland. He has also been inducted into the Northeast Ohio Business and Cleveland Journalism Halls of Fame.

In a further demonstration of his dedication and commitment to the Cleveland community, Mr. Machaskee has been welcomed into the boards of many local nonprofit organizations. Some of the cultural institutions whose boards he joined include the Musical Arts Association of the Cleveland Orchestra, the International Orthodox Christian Charities, the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Cleveland Council on World Affairs, the Cleveland Opera, and United Way Services.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honor of Alex Machaskee for his decades of commitment and service to the greater Cleveland area. His leadership of the Plain Dealer and his efforts in greater Cleveland area nonprofit organizations demonstrate the strength of his character and the dedication he feels to his community. I commend Mr. Machaskee and wish him success in his future efforts.

RETIRE MAJOR GENERAL FRED-ERICK HARWOOD "FRED"
FORSTER

HON. JOHN J. DUNCAN, JR.

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. DUNCAN. Madam Speaker, Retired Major General Frederick Harwood "Fred" Forster passed away on November 18, 2010, after a long and very brave battle with cancer. I do not know another person who has met such a challenge with more strength, faith, and grace.

Fred was a very patriotic American and one of the finest men I have ever known. He had an immeasurable impact on Blount County, Tennessee, and the United States in many positive ways.

Upon reporting the news of his death, The Daily Times newspaper in Maryville, Tennessee, referred to Fred as "a community treasure."

Fred's pastor at Mount Lebanon Baptist Church said Blount County has lost a "great man and friend to this community," and he continued on to say that, "(Fred) believed in prayer and accepted the will of God without complaint. Dignity, respect, honor, faith, love, commitment; these are the words that describe Fred."

Sharon Hannum, Chair of the Blount County Chamber Foundation, said, "I have met no stronger, dedicated and compassionate leader than in the person of Fred Forster."

Former Maryville Mayor Joe Swann said, "His steadfastness in the face of such adversity makes him the soldier we point to and say, 'I had the great privilege of knowing that remarkable man.'"

Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER, a native of Maryville himself, called Fred a friend and said, "Blount County and I will miss him greatly."

Fred is perhaps best known for his success in the military. Commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1968, his accomplishments as a pilot and natural leadership abilities propelled Fred to the rank of assistant adjutant general of the Tennessee Air National Guard at the time of his retirement in 2003.

During his 35-year service, he served as commander of the 134th Air Refueling Wing, Tennessee Air National Guard, and chief of staff of the Tennessee Air National Guard.

Fred's time in the military took him through the Air Command and Staff College, Army Command and General Staff College, and Air War College. He received countless decorations, including a Bronze Star, and served in Thailand and the United Arab Emirates, playing an important role in the liberation of Kuwait during Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm.

Fred also found much success in community development. He served as chief executive officer of the Blount Partnership, a venture made up by the Blount County Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Development Board, Smoky Mountain Convention and Visitors Bureau and Blount Chamber Foundation.

His time at the Chamber is admired by all who were lucky enough to work with him until his retirement earlier this year.

As you would imagine, Fred's work did not stop with the military or his time at the Chamber. He devoted much time to other civic and private organizations too numerous to name in this space.

Fred was buried with full military honors at Mount Lebanon Baptist Church, and I attended his graveside service along with many hundreds of other people. It was very obvious to everyone who was there how loved and respected he was in the community.

Recently, Fred's father-in-law, Garland DeLozier, also passed away. Garland was a community leader in his own right, and I offer my condolences to Fred's wife, Carolyn, who has lost her husband and father in such a short span of time.

Before his passing, Fred said of Carolyn, "She was invaluable. Couldn't ask for a better supporter and a partner and a helper and sustainer."

Fred's daughter Rebecca was one of my House Pages and is now a member of my staff, and her sister, Joy, interned for me in 1996. I know the pain myself of losing a father at about their age, but they should have much comfort in knowing how loved and admired their dad was by everyone and how proud he was of their own accomplishments.

Fred was very devoted to his family, and he will be greatly missed by Carolyn, Joy, and Rebecca, as well as his daughter, Katherine; grandchildren Drew and Caroline; mother, Harriet; and sister, Jane.

Madam Speaker, I urge my Colleagues and other readers of the RECORD to join me in celebrating the extraordinary life of Major General Fred Forster. His life and accomplishments are without comparison, and he will forever be an example to all those who knew him.

HONORING CHARLES MENG OF
NAPA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Mr. Charles Meng, who is being honored this evening on the occasion of his retirement after 20 years of service on the Napa Valley College Board of Trustees. Mr. Meng is retiring from the board to serve as a commissioner on the Accrediting Commission of Community and Junior Colleges, Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

Charles has dedicated his life to serving his country and his community. He graduated from West Point in 1957 and was a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He went on to serve as a senior engineer manager in the U.S. Navy's nuclear submarine program. He is completing his fifth four-year term on the Napa Valley College Board of Trustees and was also elected to the Association of Community Colleges Trustees Board in 2004. He has served on many community college accreditation teams and is an expert on community college governance. Charles was the NVC Board's representative on a number of critical college committees, including the Technology Plan Development, Napa River Flood Control project and Mare Island Naval Shipyard closure. He was also on the committees to hire three college presidents.

As the current president and longest serving member of the board, Charles is admired and respected by the entire campus as well as the community at large. An engineer by trade, he is known as a highly intelligent, focused and analytical leader. He is a consensus builder but will not budge on his commitment to preserving access to higher education for all. One of the ways he has demonstrated this commitment is by serving on my service academy review panel, interviewing young people from my district seeking nomination to our Nation's service academies. As a West Point graduate himself, Mr. Meng's insights and experiences serving our country were invaluable in this process. Due to his guidance and support, many were able to fulfill their dream of serving our country as he has.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, it is appropriate at this time that we thank Mr. Charles Meng for the incredible work he has done on behalf of the students of Napa Valley College and for the work he will undoubtedly continue to do. Napa Valley College is a premier institution for higher learning and will remain that way due in large part to his efforts. I join his family and everyone in the Napa Valley College Community in wishing him continued success and fulfillment.

THE PUBLIC EMPLOYEE PENSION
TRANSPARENCY ACT (H.R. 6484)

HON. DEVIN NUNES

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. NUNES. Madam Speaker, I rise today to discuss the Public Employee Pension Transparency Act, H.R. 6484, which I introduced on December 2, 2010, with the Gentleman from Wisconsin, Mr. RYAN, and the Gentleman from California, Mr. ISSA. This legislation is designed to enhance the soundness of State and local employee pension benefit plans by providing them the incentives necessary for State and local governments to provide the American people with meaningful disclosure of the value of these plans' assets and liabilities.

State and local governments have promised pension benefits to about 20 million active public employees and another seven million retirees and dependents. According to the states, these pension promises are underfunded by about $1 trillion. However, this enormous number fails to accurately convey the true magnitude of the cost taxpayers will bear to meet these obligations. Moreover, as a result of a lack of transparency and generous accounting standards, the vast majority of the American people are unaware that their State and local governments collectively owe trillions of dollars for generous public employee pension benefits.

Unlike private pension plans, public employee pension plans are allowed to use unreasonably high discount rates to calculate their liabilities. In fact, many use unrealistic expected rates of returns on their plan assets, the value of which is often inflated, to discount their pension liabilities. Many economists maintain that these practices are misguided and hide the fact that State and local government pension plans are collectively underfunded by more than $3.8 trillion.

The Public Employee Pension Transparency Act would address this serious situation by requiring State and local government pension plans to disclose the true magnitude of their liabilities to the American people. The bill would condition the continuation of specified Federal tax benefits upon State and local governments' decision to file certain information regarding their pension plans with the Secretary of the Treasury. This information, which would reveal the true extent of public pension debt, would be available to the public through a searchable Web site.

Over the course of the past several years, we have seen trillions of taxpayer funds spent to bailout banks, auto companies, Wall Street, homeowners, and others. The American people are infuriated by these bailouts and are insisting that they end. State and local governments, with their trillions of dollars in hidden public employee pension debt, are next in line. It is time for them to reveal the true cost of their pension promises and to take that action necessary including pension reforms—to meet their obligations. The Public Employee Pension Transparency Act would reaffirm that State and local pension obligations are solely the responsibility of those entities and proclaim that the Federal Government will not provide a bailout. Accordingly, I ask my colleagues to join with me to enact this legislation.

H.R. 4853: THE MIDDLE CLASS TAX
RELIEF ACT OF 2010

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4853, the Middle Class Tax Relief Act of 2010. This legislation permanently extends the tax cut provisions passed in 2001 and 2003 for individuals with incomes below $200,000 and $250,000 for couples. It would permanently extend the 10%, 23% and 28% marginal tax brackets, as well as the 33% bracket as it applies to income of less than $250,000. It would also continue the maximum $1,000 child tax credit and the maximum 15% rate on capital gains and dividends where income is less than $250,000. It would permanently reduce the tax known as the "marriage penalty," and it includes a 2-year "patch" intended to prevent more than 25 million Americans from being subject to the alternative minimum tax over the next two years. It also permanently extends expensing rules for small businesses.

I am glad to see so much focus on the unemployed and underemployed during debate on the potential extension of the tax cuts. However, the myth that we must pass tax cuts to the wealthy in order to help those without jobs has been disproven several times over. If the concern is about the plight of the 15 million unemployed Americans, the estimated 12 million underemployed, and the estimated 6 million long-term unemployed, we should do the humane and economically efficient thing: extend and expand unemployment assistance.

Instead, the debate is about whether to extend tax cuts to the wealthy. Nearly a quarter of all the income in America today goes to the top 1% of Americans. In recent years, the highest-income Americans have received by far the largest pre-tax raises of any group. They have also had their tax rates drop by far more. Americans have said in polls that they want to see the Bush tax cuts on households making more than $250,000 per year expire. For the wealthiest 3% of Americans, expiration would simply mean a return to 1990's tax rates if that were to happen. Yet, many of the same advocates for passing a massive tax cut for the wealthy are bemoaning a growing budget deficit.

We must not ask the middle class, the working class, those who are not fortunate enough to make $200,000 or $100,000 or even $20,000 a year, to pay so that the wealthiest Americans can enjoy the lowest income tax rates that any wealthy American has had since the 1960s. We must not tell the poor, the unemployed, and the underemployed, that we cannot help you, because we have decided that the wealthiest Americans need a tax cut more than you need a lift to get you through these brutal times. Those that need our help must not hear from Congress: go and figure it out for yourselves.

S. 3307, THE HEALTHY, HUNGER-FREE KIDS ACT OF 2010

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010. This bill is a good first step in addressing childhood hunger and poor nutrition, which are two of the greatest public health challenges facing the United States today.

I urge all of my colleagues to join me in supporting this legislation, which passed the Senate unanimously. It contains the most significant improvements in 30 years to the child nutrition programs that serve millions of children across our country. This legislation expands access to healthy foods for kids, makes it easier for low-income kids to enroll in the school meal programs, improves the nutritional quality of school meals, significantly decreases the availability of junk food and sugary beverages from school vending machines, and expands access to after-school meals for low-income kids.

This is a vote that I do not take lightly. While I never questioned the need to improve child nutrition programs across the country, I did question the Senate's choice to pay for this legislation with a reduction in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits. SNAP benefits are an essential part of this nation's nutrition safety net. More than 41 million Americans rely upon SNAP benefits monthly to put food on the table. According to the USDA Food and Nutrition Service, Data and Statistics Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Report, released in October 2010, the number of households in my home state of Georgia receiving food stamps jumped from 581,709 total households in July of 2009 to 716,749 households in July of 2010—an increase of 23.2% in just one year. Many SNAP recipients are children or seniors, and I had serious concerns that the SNAP reduction would be a classic case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. I was deeply concerned that reducing SNAP benefits to pay for this bill would hurt the people it was meant to help—children of low-income families striving to make ends meet during this turbulent economy.

After a long thought process, I stand here before you as a strong supporter of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act. As a Member of the Congressional Progressive Caucus, I joined a letter to the Obama Administration expressing opposition to reducing SNAP benefits to fund this bill, or any other legislative priority. The President and his Administration share these concerns and have assured Congress that it will work with us to restore this cut and use their current authorities to protect the integrity of SNAP benefits and further improve children's access to nutrition programs.

This bill would be instrumental in helping to address the growing crises of child hunger and also of childhood obesity. In terms of child hunger, last year, more than 1.29 million Georgia students participated in the Free and Reduced Price Lunch Program. Obesity is a national crisis, but it is of a particular concern in my home state of Georgia which has the second highest prevalence of obese 10–17 year olds in the nation. The provisions in the child nutrition bill that improve nutritional quality of foods served on school campuses throughout the school day and those that strengthen Local School Wellness Policies can help to combat the rise in childhood obesity we see here in Georgia. According to the latest U.S. Census Bureau American Community Survey report released in September 2010, 22.3% of Georgia's children live in poverty—that's more than half a million children under age 18.

I would be remiss if I did not mention two key individuals in my district that have worked hard to combat childhood obesity. Dr. Yvonne Butler founded Healthy Kids Smart Kids. Healthy Kids Smart Kids is an organization that fights childhood obesity and educates adults and children on healthy eating and staying active. She started the first sugar-free school program in Georgia at Browns Mill Elementary School in Lithonia. Ms. Pat "Shy" Haggans is a certified personal trainer and lifestyle coach who founded Generation Next Sports Performance facility in Lithonia where she specializes in getting kids fit to fight obesity. Like Dr. Butler, she has helped hundreds of kids shed pounds through exercise, planning and lifestyle changes to combat childhood obesity. She assists parents as well to ensure that the next generation will be healthier than ours.

It is important to recognize that this bill would not be on the floor now if it were not for Representatives GEORGE MILLER, ROSA DELAURO, and JAMES MCGOVERN. Their leadership in conducting negotiations with the Obama Administration was key to moving this bill forward.

I strongly support the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act, which would also help advance the Administration's goal of solving the problem of childhood obesity within a generation, and urge my colleagues to do the same.

IN RECOGNITION OF MS. BARB DEMARCO'S DECADES OF ACTIVISM IN THE WEST BLOOMFIELD COMMUNITY AND HER NINE YEARS OF SERVICE TO ITS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

HON. GARY C. PETERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. PETERS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Ms. Barb DeMarco, a member of the West Bloomfield School District Board of Education and lifelong local activist, on the occasion of her retirement. As a Member of Congress, it is both my honor and privilege to recognize Ms. DeMarco for her decades of service and work to build a better future for the West Bloomfield community and its youth.

For the past 25 years, Ms. DeMarco has been at the fore of many grassroots initiatives in West Bloomfield to improve the quality of life for its residents. Ms. DeMarco was often the driving force behind many of the millage initiatives that were directed toward acquiring and developing land for use as community parks. It is with this same spirit of activism and bettering the community that Ms. DeMarco embarked on her journey to advocate for improving public education for our youth. As a concerned citizen, well before her tenure on the board of education, Ms. DeMarco spearheaded campaigns to pass bond initiatives to strengthen West Bloomfield schools and create an environment of academic excellence for its students.

Beginning in 2001 Ms. DeMarco took her passion for activism and advocacy to the West Bloomfield School District Board of Education, where she has served with selflessness and tenacity. Ms. DeMarco's initial work focused on improving school curriculum, where she fought for a rigorous academic program to provide students every opportunity to excel. After just 3 years on the Board, Ms. DeMarco was appointed to the Oakland Schools Intermediate School District Board of Education where she took that same zeal for fighting for public education to both a county and national level.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me today to honor Ms. DeMarco's decades of advocacy on behalf of her students and her community. Her presence will surely be missed. It is with much gratitude for her service and dedication that I wish her many more years of advocacy and success in building a better community for our youth.

IN HONOR OF DR. EDWARD G. KESHOCK

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I am saddened to learn of the passing of Dr. Edward G. Keshock. Dr. Keshock was Professor of Mechanical Engineering and Chair of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Cleveland State University. He was also Honorary Consul of the Slovak Republic for the State of Ohio since his appointment in 1999.

Ed Keshock received his Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering from the University of Detroit in 1958 and began his career in July of that year with the NASA Glenn Research Center at Lewis Field in Cleveland. There, he worked as a research engineer in the Heat Transfer Branch of the Nuclear Reactor Division. He participated in some of the earliest studies dealing with boiling heat transfer processes in low- or fractional-gravity fields, relating to applications in the newly emerging field of space exploration.

In 1964, Ed began his studies at Oklahoma State University where he earned his Master of Science and Ph.D. degrees in Mechanical Engineering in 1966 and 1968, respectively. After a distinguished career as professor at Old Dominion University, the University of Tennessee, and the Air Force Institute of Technology, Dr. Keshock returned to Cleveland in 1990. He was appointed Chair of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Cleveland State University where he served until his death.

Throughout his academic career, Dr. Keshock focused on research while teaching graduate and undergraduate classes in Mechanical Engineering. His research on the effects of microgravity on heat transfer processes spanned his career of more than 50 years.

Dr. Keshock was actively involved with the Slovak-American communities of the State of Ohio and the country of Slovakia. Dr. Keshock served as President of the Cleveland Bratislava International Sister Cities organization for most of its existence. In 1995, Dr. Keshock was appointed to be co-host to a 35-member delegation from the Slovak Republic at the White House Conference on Trade and Investment, attended and sponsored by the U.S. Government, including President Clinton and members of his White House staff.

In 1999, Dr. Keshock was appointed the Honorary Consul of the Slovak Republic for the State of Ohio. In this capacity, he not only represented the country of Slovakia in all official matters in the State of Ohio, but was involved in extensive community and international cultural programs that contribute to the improvement in the quality of life for citizens throughout the State of Ohio and Slovakia. He is also a member of the City of Cleveland Consular Corps, thus interacting with many ethnic and nationality communities.

Madam Speaker and respected colleagues, please join me in mourning the loss of a deeply respected scholar and statesman, Dr. Edward Keshock. Our condolences go out to his wife Mary Jo, their three children Kathleen of Knoxville, Tennessee; Carolyn of London, England; and Michael of Mobile, Alabama; and their three grandchildren. He leaves behind a significant and memorable personal and professional legacy.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE SCOTIA BAND

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the 75th anniversary of the Scotia Band, a community band formed in Humboldt County, California in 1935. The Scotia Band is a living legacy of America's musical heritage and a fixture on the North Coast of California.

The 35-piece, marching Scotia Band was established in 1935 by employees of The Pacific Lumber Company, later welcoming other musicians of the community. Women were encouraged to join during World War II, with the first woman president, Alice Gunnerson, serving from 1950–51. Local students have also participated, establishing the Scotia Band as an important part of music education in the region. Over the years, the band has involved over 700 musicians and conducted over 3,600 rehearsals.

In 1960, Sewell Lufkin was appointed band leader. A local elementary school teacher and World War II veteran, he instilled his abiding appreciation for music in his students. After his death in 1978, the Scotia Band established the Sewell Lufkin Memorial Scholarship, which continues to support Humboldt County students pursuing music education.

The Scotia Band continues to perform traditional and contemporary concert music at annual events and one-time commemorations throughout the county. Under the leadership of the current band leader, Michael McClimon, smaller ensembles have been formed, including the Scotia Dixieland Band, the Tijuana Brass Group, the Scotia Brass Choir, the Scotia Ragtime Band and the Saxophone Quartet.

Humboldt County is proud to be the home of the Scotia Band, an historic and cultural institution that over the years has enriched the lives of many thousands of people. From the Blessing of the Fleet to the Fortuna Apple Harvest Festival, the Scotia Band has performed at hundreds of community functions that celebrate the cultural richness of the region. Their music continues to touch new generations and remind us of the traditions that make America great.

Madam Speaker, it is appropriate at this time to recognize the Scotia Band on the occasion of its 75th anniversary of outstanding musical performance and education to our community.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a real American Hero, from my great state of Kentucky, Cpl Trampus Miller. A member of A Co. 1-21 INF "Gators" of the 25th INF DIV., The United States Army. On July 8th 2008, Cpl Miller was almost lost when a 900 lb bomb exploded in Nasar Wa Salam Iraq, killing his Brother In Arms Cpl "Doc" McMillian. Cpl Miller from Campton lost his leg and almost his life. But in a few short years he has already begun to his amazing most courageous life and recovery. He lives by a code of Strength In Honor!

STRENGTH IN HONOR

Strength In Honor
Men of might
Those brave hearts, who evil must fight!
Who but, with their most courageous hearts
. . . . so bring the light!
Kentucky born, men like Trampus with hearts so worn so very bright!
Who all through the darkness of war, must somehow endure and win that fight!
Yes, Trampus oh how your fine heart
so sounds, this night
For you live by such a fine code!
Of Strength In Honor, so!
As over the generations, such men as you have so carried that load!
And bought and paid for, all of our Freedom's so!
Men who come back without arms and legs!
Who now so lie in such soft quiet graves
. . . .
Who all for God and Country, so gave!
For it was all in that moment!
That moment Trampus, as when you awoke
. . . .

And found what this war had so invoked!
While, close to death your fine heart so spoke!

Spoke of Faith and Courage, which now all of us so bless!

With but, your Strength In Honor yes!
As we watch you rebuild, as all of our hearts you so nourish still

As you fight The Good Fight, and will not be discouraged with but your iron will!

As you Teach Us, as you Reach So Us, as you So Beseech Us!

With all of your fine worth

Showing us all, how Strength In Honor in your fine life comes first!

And if I had a son, I would but pray he could be like you this one!

Who lives and dies, with tears in eyes
By such a fine code, of Strength In Honor all in hearts which lie!

Kentucky Strong, may you Trampus live long!

As we watch your life's song
Of Strength In Honor!

RESPONSE ON BEHALF OF FELLOWS OF THE AMERICAN COLLEGE TRIAL LAWYERS WHO REPRESENTED DETAINEES IN GUANTANAMO

HON. BILL DELAHUNT

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. DELAHUNT. Madam Speaker, I rise before you today so that my colleagues in the House of Representatives can join me in recognizing Mr. Michael Mone and his son, Mr. Michael Mone Jr.—two Massachusetts lawyers who ceaselessly fight for human rights and justice among detainees at Guantánamo Bay. I stand before you today to read to you a speech presented by Mr. Mone Sr. at this past September's American College of Trial Lawyers meeting. This discourse, written from Mr. Mone's perspective, recounts the compelling experience of his son, who selflessly represented a wrongfully accused and detained Uzbek man. The speech is as follows:

I want to thank the College for honoring those Fellows who represented Guantánamo detainees, and in particular, I want to thank Mike Cooper, who encouraged the Access to Justice Committee to become involved in securing detainee representation. I attended the spring meeting in Palm Springs when the subject was first discussed, and I came away from that meeting determined to take on a detainee's case. I want to thank the College for its encouragement and the moral support that it provided to those Fellows as they undertook to uphold the core values of the American College of Trial Lawyers—the right to counsel, a fair and independent trial to challenge their detention, and the Rule of Law.

I want to make it clear that I stand here in a representative capacity in that I am speaking for the Fellows who are here on the stage with me, for all of those Fellows who can't be here today who undertook representation of detainees, and to hopefully represent lawyers all over the country, in large firms and small firms, Republicans and Democrats, who answered the call to provide representation in this very unpopular cause. I also am here in a representative capacity because much of the real work of our client's case was done by my son, Michael, who is also my law partner, so in these remarks, when I say that we did something, in all probability, it means that Michael did something.

Too often the "detainees" are treated as a group like "illegal immigrants" as if they are all alike, but they are not. They were many different individuals who, under different circumstances, were confined at Guantánamo. Some, like our client, were simply at the wrong place at the wrong time, and others were undoubtedly waging war against the United States. But all were entitled to the benefit of our Constitutional protections. Each detainee has a different story, but we represented one man, Oybek Jabbarov, and I want to tell you Oybek's story.

In 2001, Oybek Jabbarov was in his early 20s; he was a refugee from Uzbekistan, living in Afghanistan along with his expectant wife and his one-year old son. After being discharged from compulsory service in Uzbek army in 1998, Oybek could not find a job and like so many of his countrymen, he left Uzbekistan to try and find work elsewhere. Eventually, he ended up in northern Afghanistan. He was living amongst other ethnic Uzbeks, supporting himself and his family by selling chickens when the U.S. invaded to bring down the Taliban Government and to capture the leaders of Al-Qaeda, following the unspeakable September 11th attack on this country. You must understand that under the Taliban, Afghanistan, in essence, had no government, no borders, no checkpoints, and no one was even asked for a passport, and thus, it became a refuge for people from all over central Asia, such as Oybek. As we now know, Afghanistan is a tribal society and the only protection afforded to most persons in Afghanistan is the protection of their family and tribe, without which one is extremely vulnerable.

When Oybek made the mistake of accepting a ride from Northern Alliance soldiers, the U.S. was offering a bounty for "foreign fighters," who were supporting the Taliban in the war against the U.S. and its coalition allies. Brochures in the native languages of Afghanistan were widely distributed by the U.S. offering bounties for "terrorists" who were turned over to the U.S. authorities. One of these leaflets said "get wealth and power beyond your dreams; rid Afghanistan of murdering terrorists, you can receive millions of dollars by helping to catch Al-Qaeda and Taliban murderers. This is enough money to take care of your family, your village, and your tribe for the rest of your life." The Northern alliance soldiers, who offered Oybek a ride, thus, had a powerful incentive to consider him a "foreign fighter" to collect the bounty and for that reason Oybek was turned over to the U.S. forces at the Bagram Air Force Base in December 2001. He was held in U.S. custody at the Bagram Air Force Base, and then at a facility in Kandahar, until he was transferred to Guantánamo in the spring of 2002, despite assurances from U.S. civilian interrogators in Afghanistan that "we're trying to find Arabs; don't worry, we'll try to get you out." During his time in the US custody, Oybek, like many of the others, underwent "enhanced interrogation." I am not here to debate the definition of torture, but if it was being done to you, you would know it was torture. Following transfer to Guantánamo, Oybek was held for more than seven years where a substantial part of his time, as with most of the others, was in virtual solitary confinement.

In 2006, we were assigned to Oybek's case by the Center for Constitutional Rights that served as a clearing house to match counsel and detainees and Michael and I started our representation of Oybek Jabbarov. It took some time because of various U.S. court cases and congressional action restricting the Writ of Habeas Corpus for us to obtain the classified documents which purportedly laid out the basis for Oybek's capture and continued detention. Before we ever had a chance to meet with Oybek, having reviewed that material, it was apparent to us that the case against Oybek was thin or nonexistent and Michael was armed with that information when he was finally allowed to visit Oybek in August of 2007. When I first discussed with Michael the idea of taking on a Guantánamo detainee, he said "so everyone else is going to get a goat farmer, but what happens if we end up with a real terrorist?" Before he visited Guantánamo, based upon the information we had, it was unlikely Oybek was a terrorist, and so when Michael returned from Guantánamo, the first thing he told me was "he's more Borat than he is Khalid Sheikh Mohamed." During the first eight trips to Cuba, he first met Oybek, who had been at Guantánamo for almost five years. Oybek presented as a gentle young man, with no apparent bitterness towards the U.S. Government that was detaining him, but was desperate for freedom. Unlike many other detainees, Oybek learned to speak English from listening to the guards and he was able to communicate with us directly without the necessity of a translator. His English, which I joked he spoke with a slight southern accent, greatly enhanced our ability to eventually relocate him.

In 2007, shortly before Michael's first meeting with Oybek, the Bush Administration cleared him for transfer, which in our view meant that they had determined that he did not constitute a threat to the U.S., a fact that we always knew to be true.

Following the Administration's determination that he could be transferred, we were confronted with the major problem in our representation of Oybek because he could not go back to Uzbekistan where he, in all likelihood, would have been imprisoned or killed. Uzbekistan is on our State Department's list of countries with grave human rights issues. The U.S. authorities fully agreed that he could not be returned to his native country, but had no other options. Even a successful Habeas Corpus hearing, which was years away, would not have accomplished his release from Guantánamo. As Michael said, we don't have a legal problem; we have a political and diplomatic problem obtaining his release to a third country, and we won't get much help from our Government. We had to convince a third country that, notwithstanding the U.S. having taken the position that the people at Guantánamo were "the worst of the worst," that they should offer asylum in circumstances where the U.S. was unwilling to do so. Because we knew that we would get little help from our government, Michael flew to Europe and met with human rights groups in Germany, Denmark, and Ireland in order to identify a country where we had some hope that Oybek would be accepted. Following his meetings in Dublin with Amnesty International, and representatives of Human Rights Watch, we focused on Ireland.

Why Ireland? We had four reasons. First, he spoke English, and we knew that would give him a tremendous head-start in terms of rebuilding his life. Secondly, Ireland remains, in part, an agriculture country, which was Oybek's background. We also knew that Ireland had a long tradition of the recognition of human rights, and lastly, we thought the Irish government might be open to accepting a detainee for resettlement as a way to improve relations with the United States.

In the spring of 2008, Michael and I went to Guantánamo and talked with Oybek about Ireland and about our hope that we could secure his release there. He wanted to go to a free, democratic country and Ireland certainly qualified, but he did not even know where Ireland was and I wound up drawing a free-hand map attempting to locate Ireland in Western Europe. On our return from Guantánamo, Michael made additional visits to Ireland, and single handedly started a human rights campaign on behalf of Oybek. He talked to ministers in the Irish Government, who expressed interest in helping us, but had great concerns of political ramifications of taking a Guantánamo detainee. He had members of the Dail, Ireland's parliament, raise questions to the Government in debate and made Oybek's case a prominent public issue. Past President Ralph Lancaster kindly put me in contact with his friend Former Senator George Mitchell, who the Irish revere because of his work on bringing peace to Northern Ireland. Senator Mitchell hand delivered a letter to the Irish Foreign Minister that Michael had written asking the Irish government to consider accepting Oybek for resettlement. One of our honorary Fellows, the Former President of Ireland, Mary Robinson, also spoke up in favor of Ireland's accepting Oybek. Senator Kennedy, Senator KERRY, and Congressman BILL DELAHUNT directly contacted the Irish government on Oybek's behalf. Many people from Boston visit Ireland and Michael had established such a presence there, that people returning to Boston called and told me that they had heard Michael on Irish radio discussing Ireland's role in helping to close Guantánamo.

By the end of 2008, with the change of administration in Washington, we had made a lot of progress, but then came the spring of our despair as the Obama Administration came into office and Congress prohibited any Guantánamo detainee from being brought to the U.S., which made it much more difficult to convince a third country to grant asylum to men to whom the U.S. would not accept. In the spring of 2009, with no progress, despair set in at Guantánamo and many of the detainees, including Oybek, began a hunger strike, which caused me great concern that a hunger strike would affect Ireland's interest in Oybek. My son, however pointed out that if anyone understood the despair of confinement leading to a hunger strike, it was the Irish. By late summer of 2009, it was clear that the Irish had not given up on Oybek and were prepared to grant asylum, not only to Oybek, but to one of the other four Uzbeks because they were committed to taking two detainees, not just one. Oybek and the other Uzbek, who we referred to as the "Uzbek to be named later," were eventually put on a U.S. military airplane at Guantánamo and flown into Dublin where they arrived over a year ago.

When the plane with Oybek and Shakhrukh, the other Uzbek, landed in Ireland, they were shackled—hand and foot. When the representative of the Irish government got on the U.S. military plane and was told by the officer in charge that the guards were ready to escort Oybek and Shakhrukh off the plane, the Irishman said: "These men are not going anywhere until you remove the shackles and handcuffs. When they step off this plane onto Irish soil, they will do so as free men."

There was one last item left undone. During the course of our representation, Michael had tried, without success, to locate Oybek's wife and children. But without legal travel documents and afraid to return to Uzbekistan, they had lived as refugees in Central Asia since Oybek's disappearance. One day, Oybek's family was listening to the Uzbek service on Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty and heard Michael being interviewed about his efforts to get Oybek resettled in Ireland. Eventually, Michael was put in touch with people in Pakistan and Oybek's wife and two children were located in a refugee camp in Pakistan. Michael then worked with the Irish Government to bring his wife and his two children, one of whom he had never seen, to Ireland. This work is not over. Detainees remain at Guantánamo despite the fact that in nearly 70 percent of the cases that have been heard by Federal Judges, the writ of habeas corpus has been granted. We will continue to fight for human justice. Michael and I have filed an Appearance in another detainee's case and look forward to his eventual release.

Why did lawyers, including the Fellows of the College, undertake the representation of these men in a very unpopular cause? They did it because it is part of their DNA. It is the reason many of them went to law school. Who among you has not imagined yourself as Atticus Finch standing in that hot Alabama courtroom defending an innocent man? Every state in this country has a long tradition of lawyers providing pro bono representation in unpopular causes. When Michael and I each passed the bar, we signed a book that has the name of every lawyer who has ever practiced in Massachusetts. That roll contains the names of the lawyers who represented Sacco & Vanzetti. It has the name of Benjamin Curtis, a Massachusetts lawyer and member of the Supreme Court of the United States, who dissented in the Dred Scott case and then resigned as a matter of principle. Curtis returned to Washington in 1868 to represent the very unpopular President, Andrew Johnson, in the impeachment trial before the U.S. Senate. We all know the story of John Adams, who defended the British soldiers in the Boston Massacre, but his son, John Quincy Adams, who, after he had been President, represented the African slaves on the Spanish slave ship, the La Amistad, is also on that roll of attorneys. This is not just a Massachusetts tradition; it is the fabric of what it means to be an American lawyer. All of you have or will have an opportunity at some point in your career to undertake an unpopular representation. I would urge all of you to seize that opportunity because you will never forget it.

John Adams said that of all the things he did, which included not only the presidency, but being the driving force behind the Declaration of Independence, that the representation of the British soldiers was the best service that he had ever done for his country. Each of us standing here today would tell you that this is the best thing that we have ever done. Thank you and God bless the Constitution of the United States.

IN RECOGNITION OF ALBERT
CIMPERMAN

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Mr. Albert Cimperman on his induction into the Legion of Honor by the President of the French Republic. The most prestigious award that France bestows, the medal of the Knight of the Legion of Honor is reserved for soldiers and civilians who have demonstrated remarkable talent and character. Mr. Cimperman fought bravely in World War II, displaying courage and discipline in some of the most grueling battles.

Napoleon Bonaparte conferred the first medals of honor on the civil servants of the French Republic. These first medals realized his vision of a merit based award that would spur soldiers and civilians alike to pursue endeavors that would do credit to their country. The Legion of Honor is the only remaining national order remaining in France.

Mr. Cimperman fought bravely in nine campaigns during World War II, including the battles of Normandy and Ardennes. He has received six awards from the United States government for his efforts, including the Bronze Star Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters. Today, Albert and his wife of 65 years, Zora, are active Parma residents. They were awarded the Joined Hearts in Giving Award in 2007 for their dedication to community volunteer work, and continue to teach a weekly line-dancing class at the Donna Smallwood Activities Center in Parma.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in thanking Mr. Albert Cimperman for his service. Without the sacrifice and perseverance of soldiers like him, the Allied Forces could not have prevailed and we would live in a much crueler, culturally impoverished, and oppressive world. It is my honor and my pleasure to congratulate Mr. Cimperman on his great accomplishment.

A TRIBUTE IN HONOR OF THE LIFE OF IRVING GELLERT

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. ESHOO. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the extraordinary life of Irv Gellert, a dear friend who passed away on November 1, 2010 at his home in Los Angeles, California.

Irv had a great sense of joie de vivre and lived his life to the fullest. He was born in January of 1917 and grew up in the rural coal mining region of Pennsylvania, where his athletic abilities and interest in sports led him to become an all-star high school football player. After attending Temple University in Philadelphia, Irv enlisted in the Army and served his country with honor and pride during World War II. When the war was over and his service ended, he enrolled in New York University Law School and graduated with a law degree in 1949.

Not long after graduating from law school, Irv married his beloved wife Harriet. In 1954, their only child, a son Jay was born, and Irv took on one of the great roles of his life as a parent. He was a loving role model to Jay, who called him his most admired person. Just three years after Jay was born, Irv was admitted to the California Bar Association and he spent the next 30 years as a respected practicing attorney in both New York and California.

Irv's competitive nature and enduring spirit compelled his interests throughout his life. He had a passion for sports and was a dedicated Los Angeles Lakers fan. He also held a deep-seated interest in politics and closely followed elections and the political process. In the recent midterm election cycle, Irv made use of the latest technology to keep track of races across the country by following the elections on his new Apple iPad device. Each election cycle, Irv lent his support to candidates he felt would best serve his local community as well as the country he was so proud of.

Later in life, Irv's most rewarding experiences came from caring for his ailing wife during her ten-year battle with Alzheimer's. It was during the time he cared for Harriet that Irv's true nature shone through. His love, coupled with his optimism and interminable selflessness, provided comfort to Harriet, to Jay, to their family and to their many friends affected by Harriet's condition.

Irv had a genuine love for life and humor about every aspect of it. He was the most positive person I've ever known, a man who demonstrated very clearly what he believed in by how he lived. He was a man of integrity and intelligence, grace and goodness.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in extending our sincere condolences to Jay Gellert, the light of Irv's life and the son of sons. In Irv's passing, we've lost a great friend and patriot whose dedication and service made our nation a better place. We mourn his passing, but take comfort in the knowledge that his legacy lives on through the wisdom he shared, through the humor and keen observations he displayed, and through all the people he touched throughout his long and extraordinary life.

RECOGNIZING CHAUNCEY POSTON

HON. TOM McCLINTOCK

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the service of Chauncey Poston to the City of Grass Valley, California.

Council Member Poston has a long history of service to others, beginning with his time with the United States Navy serving in Vietnam and Guam, following which he returned home to California where he earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Natural Resources from California State University, Humboldt. Since 1978, Chauncey has lived in Nevada County, where he has served as President of the Nevada County Resource Conservation District, as a member of the Grass Valley Planning Commission and the Grass Valley Traffic Safety Review Committee and since 2006, as a member of the Grass Valley City Council. Chauncey is well known for his many accomplishments and contributions to our community, including his work to ensure the fiscal solvency of the City's infrastructure programs, facilitating the cooperation between local government, businesses and interest groups and working to address each issue the City has faced as it has grown: from traffic congestion to public safety and economic development. It is a remarkable statement of Council Member Poston's service that every part of our community, from businesses to fine and performing arts groups to environmental advocates, felt they were well represented by his efforts.

Grass Valley City Administrator Dan Holler described Chauncey well: "Throughout his years on the City Council he was dedicated to building a better community by listening to residents and businesses, by being involved in civic organizations, by making hard decisions and by focusing on the long-term vision of the City of Grass Valley." Madam Speaker, in a time where localities across our country are struggling to find competent and effective leaders, Council Member Chauncey Poston has served as a fine example of the culture of service that ought to be reflected in all elected officials, and it is my privilege to rise today in recognition of that service.

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the civic accomplishments and dedicated public service of J. David Colfax who has served on the Mendocino County Board of Supervisors for the past 12 years.

As supervisor, educator and exemplary citizen his service has benefitted the ruggedly beautiful Mendocino County in northern California where he has lived with his wife Micki since 1973. HONORING THE HONORABLE
RONALD PANIOTO

HON. JEAN SCHMIDT

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mrs. SCHMIDT. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the career of the Honorable Ronald Panioto, who is retiring as a judge of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. Judge Panioto leaves the courtroom some 35 years after he first ascended the bench of the Hamilton County Municipal Court.

Judge Panioto became presiding judge of the domestic relations division of the Common Pleas Court in 1981, and he quickly gained a reputation for fairness and sensitivity for families—especially the children—who came before him.

On the occasions in domestic cases when he had to interview children, Judge Panioto bought stuffed animals to give to the children to put them at ease.

Throughout his life, Judge Panioto has rightfully been proud of his Italian heritage and served as President of the United Italian Society from 1971 to 1993.

Judge Panioto's diligence, humanity and graciousness on the bench have won him the respect of the community.

Madam Speaker, please join me in wishing Judge Panioto a long and happy retirement and thanking his wife Judith, his son Ronald Jr., his granddaughter Christine and great-grandson Andrew for sharing the judge with us over all these years.

COMMEMORATING THE LIFE OF
RON SANTO

HON. JANICE D. SCHAKOWSKY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to draw attention to the passing of legendary Chicago Cubs third baseman and broadcaster Ron Santo, and to recognize his lifetime of achievement both on and off the baseball diamond.

Ronald Edward Santo was born February 25, 1940 in Seattle, Washington. Twenty years later, he made his professional baseball debut at third base for the Chicago Cubs. Over his 14-year major league career, the first 13 with the Cubs and the final season with the cross-town White Sox, Santo hit 342 home runs, had 1,331 RBIs, won 5 Gold Gloves, and appeared in 9 All-Star games. He is considered perhaps the greatest player not currently in the Hall of Fame. Nonetheless, his number 10 is immortalized on the North Side, hanging on the left field pole at Wrigley Field, which Santo referred to as "my Hall of Fame."

After a successful baseball career, Santo spent 15 years in business before returning to the Cubs as the color commentator for WGN Radio's Cubs broadcasts in 1990. He spent the next 20 years in the Cubs radio booth, and his passion and enthusiasm for the home team, which surfaced in disheartened groans as often as supportive exclamations, endeared him to a new generation of Cubs fans. Santo always seemed at ease in the WGN booth and established himself as the rightful heir to Harry Carey's oversized throne as the king of Chicago Cubs commentary.

Away from the "Friendly Confines," Santo worked tirelessly to raise money and awareness for Diabetes through the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Diagnosed at age 18, his diabetes was unknown even to his teammates until 1971, when Santo decided to use his star power to draw attention to the disease. From 1979 until his death, Santo sponsored the JDRF Walk to Cure Diabetes, helping to raise over $60 million for research and advocacy. Santo's teammate Ernie Banks said of his fellow Cub, "Ronnie has handled his own ailment like the true champion he is. He is the most courageous person I've ever been around. I'm inspired by him and by his spirit. He is one of my idols, one of my heroes. I love Ron Santo."

Ron Santo passed away on Thursday, December 2. He will be sorely missed, but his legacy will continue to inspire us all.

TRIBUTE TO GENERAL JAMES L.
JONES

HON. IKE SKELTON

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. SKELTON. Madam Speaker, let me take this means to recognize an American hero, General James L. Jones, for his lifetime of public service. Having served more than 40 years in the United States Marine Corps as a diplomat in the Middle East and around the world, and most recently as the National Security Advisor to the President, he is a true public servant.

On October 8, 2010, the President announced that General Jones made the decision to step aside from his post as National Security Advisor and that his good friend and deputy, Tom Donilon, would succeed him.

Through the years, I have been honored to work with General Jones, and I have always trusted him to offer his best counsel on national security matters. A true patriot and strategic visionary, he has performed each and every mission with utmost dedication. The American public will forever be indebted to General Jones and his family for their service to our country and the many sacrifices they have made.

Madam Speaker, I trust my fellow members of the House will join me in paying tribute to General James L. Jones for his leadership and commitment to the safety and security of the American people. I wish him and his family the very best in the days to come.

ON THE DEATH OF AMBASSADOR
RICHARD HOLBROOKE

HON. JANE HARMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Ms. HARMAN. Madam Speaker, after hearing encouraging news over the last few days, learning that my friend Richard Holbrooke had died last night felt like a sucker punch. A day later, it still does.

I suppose, in an ironic way, Richard would smile at the enormous impact he had on friend and foe alike. He was a life force, a force of nature—someone always operating on multiple levels, in high gear, and in more than three dimensions. I used to chafe when in the middle of a phone call he would put me on hold to talk with someone else—but I bet he did it to everyone.

He was a consummate juggler—the master diplomat. He knew precisely what he was prepared to tell someone, and what he was not. Though it takes years to settle on how history will view someone, my guess is Richard Holbrooke will be considered, hands down, as the best diplomat of my generation. Indeed, he will be in a small pantheon that includes Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, and Averell Harriman.

But the public Richard is not all of it: the private Richard was a generous and loyal friend. Before joining the Obama Administration, he chaired the Global Business Coalition on HIV/

AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria. For a time, one of our grandchildren was on its staff. He loved her, and forever after asked about her life, boyfriends, etc. No question the huge staff he built over his many careers over many years is devastated by his untimely death. Surely Megan Quitkin is. To Kati, whom he adored, and the extended Holbrooke family, we mourn your loss—and our country's loss.

I like to think that Richard has just put us all on hold while he takes another call...

Tuesday, December 14, 2010

Mr. RAHALL. Madam Speaker, I rise to honor Rhoda Virginia Hofstetter on her 100th birthday. This birthday of birthdays, we honor an entire century of dedication to family, friends, colleagues and students.

Rhoda made a tremendous difference and improved so many young lives because of her life-long career as an educator. Rhoda is a pillar of strength in her community of Ansted, where she has resided since 1946. Her devotion to education, family, friends and community is an example for us all.
